SIX DIE, 14 INJURED IN CAR CRASHES

Five of One Family Killed in Same Accident When Speeding Auto Hits Trolley in Race to Crossing

Authorities in Bay Cities.. Stirred to Probe of Wrecks, Make Declaration of War to Finish on All Speeders

Six dead and fourteen injured, six of whom have little chance of recovery. That today is the toll taken by Sunday's automobile accidents in the bay region, which practically wiped out an entire family. Of the total of six dead five were killed in one crash in San Francisco last night, when an automobile was wrecked in a collision with a municipal street car. Of the six probably fatally injured, four are victims of the same accident. Their deaths are expected hourly.

Four persons, including a 3-year-old Berkeley girl, were killed in automobile accidents Saturday night, making a total of ten fatalities during the week-end. AUTHORITIES STIRRED TO INVESTIGATE.

As a result of the killings authorities on both sides of San Francisco bay were conducting exhaustive examinations today into the causes of the accidents, and announcement that "war to the finish" would be immediately declared on speeders and careless drivers, was made today by police executives. County coroners took prominent parts in the investigations.

THE DEAD.
THOMAS LYNCH, 38 years old, 1039 Palou avenue, San Francisco, proprietor of a soft drink parlor.

MRS. MARY LYNCH, his wife, same address.

MARY LYNCH, 5 years old, their daughter.

MRS. BRIDGET LYNCH, 1039 Palou avenue, San Francisco; Lynch's sister.

PHILIP LYNCH, 3-year-old son of Mrs. Bridget Lynch and nephew of Thomas Lynch.

CARL STUBBEEFIELD, 19 years old, 2022 Eighty-ninth avenue, Oakland.

THE INJURED.
John Lynch, 6 years old, son of Mrs. Bridget Lynch; probable fatal burns, fractured skull; not expected to live.

Mary Lynch, 3 years old, daughter of Mrs. Bridget Lynch, twin sister of Philip Lynch, who was killed; seriously burned, head badly crushed and probable internal injuries; not expected to live.

Katherine Lynch, 5 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lynch, who were killed, and twin sister of Mary Lynch, also dead; serious burns and probable fractured skull; not expected to live.

Miss Katherine Garvin, 1039 Palou avenue, San Francisco, sister of Mrs. Mary Lynch; terribly burned and possible fractured skull; not expected to live.

Walter Andrews, 19 years old, 9220 Foothill boulevard, Oakland; fractured skull, possible internal injuries; probably fatally injured.

Miss Mary Dechamont, 63 years old, 1729 Pine street, San Francisco; broken neck, possible internal injuries and cuts and bruises; not expected to recover.

Archibald Brown, 18 years old, 1518 Eighty-ninth avenue, Oakland; possible fractured skull, cuts and bruises; may not recover.

William Zweisig, 19 years old, 9031 Hillside street, Oakland; contusions and scalp wounds.

T. M. McGeehan, 12131 Fortieth avenue, Oakland; possible fracture of skull, may live.

F. W. Gehaus, 53 Rio Vista avenue, Oakland; cuts and bruises.

J. A. Martin, 1824 Twenty-third avenue, Oakland; cuts about body.

King Thoddis, 18 years old, 1443 St. Charles street, Alameda; portion of finger cut off.

James Bailly, 14 years old, 120 Pierce street, San Francisco; serious cranial injuries.

Edward Bailly, his brother, same address; cuts and bruises.

VICTIMS' BODIES BY IMPACT OF FALLS.
Members of the Lynch family were killed and injured and Miss Garvin was badly hurt when an automobile driven by Thomas Lynch collided with a Market Street Railway Company car at Railroad and Evans avenues, San Francisco. The automobile took fire immediately after the impact with the street car and the bodies of the dead and injured were badly

Asks Court to End "Love Feast"

JUANITA MILLER and her "Lily" ("Lotus") Love, JOHN (JUAN) MILLER REED, from whom she today asked the courts for divorce.

BOYS INJURED BY DYNAMITE BLAST

Stick Explodes, Injuring Hayward 6-Year-Old Internally.

SAN LEANDRO, July 24.—Tony Mattos, 6 years old, probably will die, and Manuel Ferreira, 3 years old, is seriously injured, as the result of an explosion of a stick of dynamite with which they were playing yesterday. The children were rushed to the Alameda County hospital where their condition was pronounced critical. The Ferreira boy discovered the dynamite in his father's barn. It was marked "Danger" but the child could not read the warning. Tony Mattos applied a match to the dynamite. It exploded, shattering the hand of the older boy and injuring him internally. The Ferreira boy was less seriously hurt. The eyes of both lads were damaged.

The accident occurred at the Ferreira home in Hayward.

Dismiss Indictments In Theater Disaster

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Indictments against five persons in connection with the Knickerbocker theater disaster of last January in which 97 lives were lost, were dismissed today by Justice Siddons on the District of Columbia supreme court, who sustained demurrers. The indictments charged manslaughter against Reginald D. Geare, the architect of the theater; John H. Ford, the ironwork contractor; Julian H. Downman, building inspector; Richard G. Fletcher, cement contractor, and Donald M. Wallace, foreman for the building contractor.

The court held the indictment defective and insufficient in that the material and essential facts forming the basis of the alleged offense were not set out with reasonable certainty and the indictment therefore was too vague, indefinite and uncertain.

United States Attorney Peyton Gordon noted an appeal from the decision.

Syndicalists Make Move For New Trial

Efforts of six defendants convicted of criminal syndicalism in Oakland, to obtain a rehearing in connection with the decision of the district court of appeal denying them a new trial were made today before the state supreme court in San Francisco. The accused were Howard Walton, Michael J. Dunn, Patrick Casey, James McLaughlin, John Hannan and George Ryan.

Attorney William F. Cleary is representing the men. Attorney Charles Snook represented the district attorney's office in opposing the application.

The court took the matter under consideration.

U. S. Asks Britain To Aid Boze Ban

LONDON, July 24.—(By Associated Press.)—The British government has received a note from the Washington government, it was announced today, asking co-operation in the suppression of liquor running into the United States through Bermuda and the Bahamas.

JUANITASUES FOR DIVORCE FROM 'JUAN'

"Lily Love" Wanes Like Moon and Poet Miller's Daughter Through With Second Spouse; Desertion

"Cosmic" Matches Found Failures By Romantic Girl of "Hights"; John's Early Bath Is Too Noisy

The waning moon of Juanita's "lily love" has faded—this time officially and finally, she says. Juanita Miller, the "nature girl," and daughter of the late poet, Joaquin Miller, today stepped down from The Hights, her airy world of poetic fantasy, into a drab and more commonplace world, and filed suit for divorce from her "Juan."

Juanita charged desertion, declaring that her "lily love" had "voluntarily separated from her with the intent then and there to abandon her." The complaint was filed by T. C. Judkins, attorney for the plaintiff, and named John Miller as the defendant.

The filing of the complaint came as a surprise, although Juanita had announced several times her intention of allowing the law definitely to terminate her poetic romance. According to the complaint they were married in Redwood City on Dec. 17, 1920, and separated on July 6, 1921.

COULDN'T STAND JOHN'S NOISE IN EARLY BATH.

Some time ago Juanita first announced her intention of divorcing her "lily white, the one man in the whole wide world to whose vibrations her atom soul responded in lover-like ecstasies." Then she announced that the principal trouble with her romance was that her Juan bathed. He made it a practice every morning, she said, to arise at 7 o'clock to perform his ablutions. And while bathing he said, Juan made horrible noises that she couldn't stand.

"He floated on the surface of our love just as the lotus flower floats on the surface of the water," she said then. "I begged him to love me as he used to, but he said he was too tired. My honeymoon was ended just because my lily love turned to a lotus love. He was too tired to love."

BOTH "COSMIC LOVES" RESULT IN FAILURE.

This is the second of Juanita's "cosmic loves," brought to her, so she said, when her soul went on a far journey and came back with the soul of the first Juan. The souls didn't mix and they descended into the common, ordinary material world long enough to get a divorce. Then the soul of Juanita went on still another journey and came back with the second Juan, otherwise known as Reed. The photographer whom she presently loves, "John Miller."

The two drifted with the "great life stream," according to Juanita, and were caught up in the "cosmic love" and the resulting "cosmic love" fluted in their little Nirvana. Juanita felt that here at last had she found that perfect bliss that was due her and no longer were her and her lover bound to the great wheel of life.

Then suddenly the lords of Karma interfered. It was not met the two mortals should be so happy. Her "lotus love" bathed; he was too tired; he would not work. And the lords decreed that he should be cast down into the earthly plane.

He disappeared. And today Juanita asked divorce.

Culbertson Running Third in Texas Vote

DALLAS, Texas, July 24.—Interest in the Democratic primary last Saturday narrowed today to the question of an opponent for Congressman Thomas L. Blanton of Abilene in the second "run off" primary August 16. Representative Blanton had 5885 votes, with half of the returns counted. Former Congressman Oscar Galloway of Fort Worth had 3921 votes; W. J. Cunningham of Abilene 3769, and J. B. Dibble of Coleman 3208.

United States Senator Charles A. Culbertson, running third, still had a chance of retaining his seat. Earle B. Mayfield was holding his lead of 24,000 over James E. Ferguson, while the senatorial incumbent was 33,000 votes behind Mayfield. Two of these three will enter the August "run-off."

Civil War Menace Arising in Poland

WARSAW, July 24.—(By the Associated Press.)—The lack of unity between President Pilsudski and the diet felt since the beginning of the year, seemed today to be threatening to resolve itself into something like civil war.

From the moment when on June 2 President Pilsudski caused the resignation of the Poniowski cabinet, the question as to with whom lay the supreme authority in the president or the parliament, has been to the fore. Repeated attacks by Socialists Sunday against a big demonstration organized by the Nationalists resulted in the injury of a number of persons.

Mine Homes Dynamited; Snipers Battle Troops; U. S. Bans Profiteering

Hoover Forces Operators to Give Pledges to Keep Coal Cost Down.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—(By United Press.)—Coal operators from the non-union fields—the principal source of the nation's fuel supply during the great mine strike—today agreed in principle with Secretary of Commerce Hoover for a voluntary check on coal prices and the rationing of coal to the railroads and essential industries under Interstate Commerce Commission priority orders. Some legal objections were raised by some of the operators, but it is understood that Hoover warned them the Interstate Commerce Commission was ready to refuse transportation of coal at profiteering prices, if the mine owners did not agree to prevent prices from sky rocketing.

HORNELL, Pa., July 24.—In a battle in the railroad yards here today, Frank Arbidell, striking shopman, was shot and killed and Charles Cesaro, another striker, was wounded.

Anthony Rutski, Mark Valentine and Vincent Kesser, Erie railroad detectives, are held on charges of manslaughter.

The shooting is said to have followed an attempt to arrest one of the men.

CINCINNATI, O., July 24.—W. J. McGee, president of the Baltimore & Ohio Shop Crafts union, left here today for Baltimore, where he will meet officials of the road in an effort to reach a separate agreement to settle the strike of shopmen on the Baltimore & Ohio.

By JAMES T. KOBERT, United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—The shopmen's walkout, striking at the heart of the nation's railroads by interfering with the maintenance of equipment, is fast crippling the country's transportation systems, reports to the federal government today show. With many trains already annulled because of the coal shortage, advices today showed that:

Many passenger trains throughout the country are unable to keep up their schedules, apparently because of the deterioration of equipment.

Freight is being delayed one to five days.

COAL CONGESTION CAUSED BY TIE UP.

Congestion is prevalent in mining centers that are now producing coal and a shortage of coal cars exists at many mines.

Many trucks are being pressed into service for short hauls due to the delays.

No definite report on the exact condition of railroad equipment today, as compared with July 1, the date the strike began, is obtainable, but government officials estimate the general condition is about 20 to 25 per cent below that of 24 days ago. The situation is growing more serious daily.

LOCOMOTIVES FIRST TO SHOW CRIPPLING.

Locomotives are the first to feel the lack of constant care of the shopmen and the result has been the delayed trains.

The most serious aspect of the situation is the announcement of the Big Four brotherhoods that when the condition of locomotives and cars deteriorates to the point where they considered it dangerous to operate them trains will not be moved.

As an example of the critical situation daily growing more serious, reports at the union station here show that fully 75 per cent of the passenger trains arrived late during the last 24 hours.

Many late trains are reported at the rail centers of New York and Chicago.

Goodbye to Child Preludes Suicide

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—"Good-bye dear; you won't see me any more. Now run along back to bed."

With these words, "kissing his little 11-year-old stepdaughter goodbye and closing the door after her, Felix Talatowich, 38 years old, fired two bullets into his brain early today.

He had been residing at 315 Van Ness avenue with his two stepdaughters, 11 and 12 years old. Out of work and separated from his wife, Talatowich is presumed to have become despondent. He gave the fatal blow to the younger of the two children before attempting suicide.

The shot was heard shortly before 9 o'clock by other persons in the house, and Talatowich was found unconscious. He was removed in a dying condition to the Central Emergency hospital.

World Proletariat Urged to Begin War

MOSCOW, July 24.—(By the Associated Press.)—The executive committee of the Third International has sent an appeal to the proletariat of the world recommending its taking the offensive. In view of the "white terror" and the attacks on workmen abroad, the appeal says, it is time defensive tactics ceased.

The committee has sent a special appeal to the Germans, declaring their national leaders have betrayed the cause and recommending that the workers take power into their own hands and dismiss the leaders if the latter fail to overcome the monarchic reaction.

GOVERNMENT SEIZURES IN STRIKES DUE

Authority for Step Within 48 Hours Found By Officials in Interstate Commerce Commission Provision

President Loses Patience As Efforts to Bring Peace in Strikes Fail; Rationing Rule To Be Enforced

WASHINGTON, July 24.—(By International News Service.)—Legal approval was given today to the administration's plan to combat the twin rail and coal strikes by having the Interstate Commerce Commission, with the co-operation of other government departments, exercise a virtual dictatorship over allocation of coal and coal-carrying transportation for the duration of the industrial emergency.

By LAWRENCE MARTIN, United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Powders, almost as drastic as those used by the government during war time, will be brought into play in dealing with the coal and rail strikes, it was believed here today.

Issuance of an order declaring that the dual mine and rail strike constituted a national emergency within the meaning of the transportation act, was expected from the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Issuance of this decree would result in strong action being taken by the government to protect the public interest. The administration in the contemplated step is expected to treat the two emergencies as one.

The plan contemplated by the government includes the following two steps:

1.—Governmental direction of the railroads and control of the distribution and price of coal.

2.—Seizure and operation of the mines.

The patience of the president in his efforts to bring the warring factions in both strikes together has been exhausted and he feels it his duty to take action, according to administration senators.

The government's new and sweeping move will be made within two days, if the strikers and the employers do not manifest a willingness to settle their dispute, one leading Republican senator said.

Assurances have been given the executive that any additional powers needed can be voted by congress in the near future.

One of the first steps under consideration is said to be priority orders for the shipment of coal to New England and the northwest where the shortage already is becoming acute.

Penalties may be imposed on any carrier who refuses to obey interstate commerce commission emergency orders. Fines of from $100 to $500 may be imposed, with $50 for each day the violation is continued.

No fines are provided against workers.

Castor Faces Bad Check Charge Today

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—Arthur Castor, whose confession of alleged complicity in the holdup resulting in the death of Mrs. Anna Wilkens, caused the arrest of the latter's husband, Henry Wilkens, on a murder charge, was forced himself to face a felony accusation today.

Castor appeared and pleaded not guilty in Superior Judge Louis Ward's court in connection with a charge of passing a fictitious check.

The check, which was cashed by Charles McKelby and it is alleged that the name of George Barlas was forged. This occurred on December 24 last. Castor's case was continued until August 3.

District Attorney Matthew Brady is hurrying the necessary preliminary in the trial of bringing Wilkens to trial in the superior court. He was held to answer on Friday by Police Judge McAtee. Brady is hopeful that Walter Castor named in his brother's confession as one of the plotters in the slaying of Mrs. Wilkens will be in custody soon.

Two Flyers Hurt In Plane Crash

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. NEW YORK, July 24.—Two aviators were injured today when the machine they were piloting crashed to the street in Birdall avenue, near the Long Island railroad, Far Rockaway. They were taken to St. Joseph's hospital.

Walker Slams Out 24th Season Homer

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. PHILADELPHIA, July 24.—"Tilly" Walker, leading home run hitter of the American League, was smashed out No. 24 this afternoon in the third inning of the Washington-Philadelphia game. Erickson was pitching for Washington.

Persians to Develop Coal in Philippines

MANILA, July 24.—Persian capitalists who are engaged in dredging the rich gold deposits of Surigao province have also bought the controlling interest in a tract of 17,000,000 tons of coal in Cebu province. It was learned today. Americans had surveyed the coal deposit, but it is undeveloped because of lack of capital.

DURANT TAKES HONORARY POST AS POLICE CHIEF

Diamond-Studded Badge Presented at Dinner Given To Honor Him.

By JIM HOUHAN.

The esteem in which R. C. ("Chief") Durant is held by men and officials in public life of the Eastbay cities was demonstrated Saturday night at a dinner given in his honor, the occasion being his induction into office as an honorary police chief.

More than fifty police executives and business men were present at the ceremony of swearing in Durant as the only honorary police chief in America.

A diamond-studded gold badge, with the insignia of office inscribed upon it, a gift of the police chiefs in the San Francisco bay cities, was presented to Durant in a fitting speech by Mayor Davies.

DURANT PRAISED.

What was intended to be an affair to witness Durant's induction into police office resolved itself into a gathering which was rich in its praises of Durant's importance in Eastbay cities industrial life. His local career, dating from his first visit as a Chevrolet executive, in 1915, when he was seeking a Pacific Coast location for an assembly plant, up until the present day, when the new Durant factory will soon be in a large production, was reviewed in a glowing manner by more than a dozen prominent speakers.

Mayor Davies, as chief executive of the City of Oakland, extended a warm tribute to Durant's ability and in his talk told of the first trip Durant and Norman de Vaux made on an inspection tour as the mayor's guest, a journey which immediately resulted in Oakland being chosen as the western point for Chevrolet production.

H. C. Capwell, in responding to a toast, stated that it was men of vision like Durant and De Vaux who made a city, and not the location of a community which was responsible for its success.

SPRIT OF HARMONY.

Norman de Vaux praised the harmonious spirit which existed among public officials on both sides of the bay, remarking that it was such an attitude which will make the San Francisco bay district the most important on the Pacific Coast.

Durant sincerely thanked the speakers who had praised him, stating at the same time that all credit was not due him, but should be given his associates who had aided his efforts in building up the

Other speakers were: Joseph R. Knowland, Chief of Police James Drew, Chief of Police James Quinn, J. R. MacLafferty, V. O. Lawrence, Judge Mortimer Smith, Judge Edw. Tyrrell, C. M. Steves, Eddie Hearne, John Chambers, William Baccus and Sheriff Frank Barnett.

District Attorney Ezra Decoto acted as toastmaster.

The committee in charge of arrangements was Chief Drew, Captain Thorwald Brown and Harry McKnight.

ENTERTAINMENT PROVIDED.

Entertainment was provided by Thelma and Doris Hubbard, two petite young Oakland nippers. An extra feature, violin solos by Robert Hourko, of the Oakland Hotel orchestra, which were played on a rare Stradivarius owned by Durant, were accorded a hearty ovation by the guests. Elbert Cowan was accompanist.

Those present were: R. C. Durant, Norman de Vaux, W. J. Baccus, H. C. Capwell, C. M. Steves, A. L. Warming, Robert H. Mutch, George R. Scott, L. R. Holm, N. W. Armstrong, Robert Tracey, H. Timothy McKnight, Chief James Drew,

Political Notes

Advocating a law that would penalize the citizen who fails to vote, Everett Everhart, student at the University of California, and candidate for state assemblyman from the Fortieth district, spoke before Carpenters' Local No. 1163 last night.

Walter Brinkop, candidate for the Republican nomination for state treasurer, will be speaker tonight at a meeting to be held in Blake hall, Twelfth and Washington streets.

Last Saturday evening a W. C. Allen for Constable Club was organized in East Oakland to assist "Billy" Allen in his fight for the election to the office which he held for twelve years. The club organized by electing Robert M. Pettus as president and Irving Domes as secretary. Speeches were made by Judge Herbert D. Wise, Miss Josephine Nesbitt, Ray Rockford, Frank Bell and others. The club will meet every evening at Allen's headquarters, 600 East Twelfth street.

The International Brotherhood of Boilermakers, Iron Shipbuilders and Helpers of America, Local No. 6, has endorsed Edgar S. Hurley for senator from the Sixteenth district. The formal indorsement says:

"If the Industrial Accident Commission is allowed to continue in its present ruling, it simply means the elimination of millions of dollars to the industry of the state, and it also means the throwing out of employment of thousands of men who have always made a livelihood in the building and repairing of boilers."

Hurley says that the boiler-makers and allied trades are seriously threatened by the Accident Commission's attitude toward boilers made in this state and in favor of Eastern boilers. The indorsement is signed by Thomas Sheehy, secretary-treasurer, and M. J. McGuire, representative.

Formation of a club of ex-service men to work for the election of Richard M. Lyman Jr. to the assembly from the Thirty-seventh district was announced today by Lyman's committee. The club will consist of 150 or more men who served in the last war.

David D. Oliphant Jr., candidate for Congress on the Republican ticket, announced the signatures of the following leaders in organized labor circles in Alameda county to his petition, recently filed: William A. Spooner, business agent Central Labor Council; S. M. Jacobs, business agent Machinists, No. 284; John C. Goad, Railway Shop Federation; Charles C. Noddin, Milk Wagon Drivers; W. H. Noe, Labor Temple; D. F. Dempsey, Structural Iron Workers; W. E. Castro, organizer American Federation of Labor; Frederick Lippert, Janitors; E. N. Kelly, secretaries, "Pressmen Union; J. W. Willis, president and business agent Butchers' Union; Edward P. Myers, superintendent Union Labor Publishing Company; E. C. Carter, business agent Millmen, No. 50; George H. Denison, Milk Wagon Drivers; Frank B. Perry, business agent Barbers' Union; F. Alderson, Machinists, No. 284; Cy Goody, business agent Bakers' Union; James Shea, business agent Bakery Wagon Drivers; P. Frandsen, Janitors; Andy C. Mortensen, Milk Wagon Drivers; Peter J. Castro, Pressmen's Union.

Judge and Mrs. William A. Sloane returned to their home in Oakland last evening from a week-end excursion into the San Joaquin valley, where the judge was looking after the progress of his campaign for re-election to the Supreme Court. They visited Merced, Modesto and Stockton and reported a very satisfactory and encouraging trip. Each of the counties visited gave Judge Sloane a large majority two years ago, when he was elected for the short term, and he reports a indication of a less favorable support at the coming elections.

RICHMOND, July 24.—Frank C. Jordan, secretary of state, visited this city Saturday afternoon in the interest of the candidacy of Charles C. Moore for the Senatorship.

RICHMOND, July 24.—A Hiram W. Johnson Club will be formed here during the coming week. It was given out yesterday. A campaign will be made to sign up all voters of the city who are desirous of returning Johnson to the Senate. Following the signing of membership there will be a meeting at which formal organization will be effected.

Reputed German Agent Quits Mexico

MEXICO CITY, July 24.—Folke Granholm, one time Swedish charge d'affaires in Mexico City and popularly regarded as intermediary between the German minister, Heinrich Von Eckhardt, and President Carranza in the passage of important notes in the early part of the war, is returning to Sweden.

Paderewski Denies Political Plans

HAVRE, July 24.—Ignace Jan Paderewski arrived here yesterday on board the steamer Savile from New York. He asserted that he had no political aspirations in Poland. He said he was going to Switzerland for three months and afterwards perhaps might visit Poland.

Surprise Many Friends with Wedding

Wedding announcements came today revealing the marriage of Miss Marion Hawkinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hawkinson of this city, and Arthur Herndon of San Francisco. The ceremony took place in Trinity Episcopal church at high noon Saturday with only the immediate friends and a few others present. Mrs. Kirby Parcells West (Myrtle Beckert), whose marriage took place a month ago, was matron of honor for her chum, and William Harris Gale best man. A wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride. The wedding was to have been an elaborate ceremony in September but because of a change of business plans of the bridegroom, was set for an earlier date.

The bride-elect since her engagement days has been feted extensively. Herndon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wicher of San Francisco and was graduated from Stanford University.

Mr. and Mrs. Herndon are now on a motor trip to the southern section of the state.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hinckley Taylor of Piedmont are now at Shasta Springs. Also at the same resort are Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Kofoed of Berkeley, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Pfeiffer, Miss Florence E.

MRS. ARTHUR HERNDON, whose marriage Saturday in Trinity Episcopal Church in this city was a surprise to a host of friends. The bride was Miss Marion Hawkinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hawkinson.—Boye photo.

RETURN FROM LAKE TAHOE

The Misses Marcelline and Gertrude Norton of Vernon Heights have recently returned from a sojourn at Lake Tahoe and are now entertaining as their house guest Miss Georgia Norton of Massachusetts, for whom a number of interesting parties are to be given. One of these was a dinner at the Mt. Diablo Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Kelsey and Miss Anne Harriot Kelsey of Spruce street are home from Ben Lomond. They were accompanied to the mountains by Mrs. W. L. Arnold and Miss Susan, who remained in the mountains for another week.

Miss Kelsey is the fiancée of Kenneth Clyde Smith of Alameda. The wedding is to take place next month.

Miss Elizabeth Moore spent the week end as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Salem Camillo Pohlman in the Russian River country, where a jolly party was entertained at the Pohlman ranch.

Mrs. Emil Fritsch accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reed to Lake Tahoe and will be away for about ten days or more.

Miss Stella Peterson recently enjoyed a cruise of the Great Lakes on the palatial steamer "Octorara."

Miss Betty Merrill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Merrill of Berkeley, returned this week from a trip to Skagway, Alaska. She will join her parents at Lake Tahoe at their summer home very soon.

HONEYMOON SPENT AT LAKE TAHOE

Half a hundred were guests at the wedding of Miss Edna Mae Nelson and Stanley Alfred Hayes at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Nelson, in Blake street, Tuesday evening. Rev. Bruce McDonald of Calvary Presbyterian church officiated. Pastel shades of sweet peas, white carnations and greens were used in the decorations for the wedding.

The bride wore a gown of white French organdie, trimmed in organdie flowers and loops of satin ribbons. Orange blossoms were worn in her coiffure and the shower bouquet of lilacs of the valley and Cecil Breuner rosebuds.

Miss Irene Long of this city was the attendant upon the bride and wore pink organdie. She carried a shower bouquet of Cecil Breuner rosebuds.

Alton E. Nelson was best man for Hayes. Miss Pearl Hartzel-Gold played the "Lohengrin" wedding march.

Mrs. Hayes is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Nelson. She was a former student at the Berkeley high school.

An informal reception was held after the ceremony, after which the couple left for Lake Tahoe to pass several weeks' honeymoon. The bride's going away gown was of gray material.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayes will be at home to their friends after August 15 at the Lahontan apartments.

HOME FROM THE ISLANDS

Miss Vera Hornhard is being welcomed home from the Hawaiian Islands, where she was a member of a congenial party of friends. Accompanying her were Miss Jane Stow and Mrs. J. S. Kinkead, who passed two months in the islands. The party spent some time at Hilo and other points of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Lawrence Regan motored to Del Monte with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Seaver of Berkeley last week and expect to return to town today.

Just a few steps down to the

RED PIMPLES ALL OVER FACE

Burned and Itched.
Cuticura Healed.

"My trouble began with pimples breaking out all over my face. They were hard and red though not very large. The pimples festered causing much burning and itching, and my face looked very badly. I used other remedies but they did me little or no good. I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and decided to try them, and after using them about six weeks I was healed." (Signed) Miss Lena Bonchero, 3908 Franklin Blvd., Sacramento, Calif., Feb. 10, 1922.

For every purpose of the toilet and bath Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum are wonderfully good.

EWING BOOSTS FOR S. J. PARADE

In order to have as many as possible of the older members of Oakland Parlor, No. 50, N. S. G. W., in line for the parade at San Jose, September 9, J. C. Ewing, charter member of Oakland Parlor, and president of the Oakland baseball club, has taken it upon himself to visit personally as many as possible of the old-timers. He is being assisted in this by Ezra Decoto, district attorney; Frank C. Jordan, secretary of state, and Harry G. Williams, grand president of the N. S. G. W., and members of Oakland Parlor.

Oakland Parlor, N. S. G. W., and Bahia Vista Parlor, No. 187, N. D. G. W., have made arrangements to parade together at San Jose and more than fifty members of each have signed up for the occasion. This section of the parade in the Alameda county division will be headed by the Oakland Parlor drum corps, recently organized and under the direction of William Greenfield.

While at San Jose during the days and evenings of September 8, 9 and 10, Oakland and Athens parlor, N. S. G. W., and Bahia Vista

YOSEMITE WEARS WILD WEST GARB FOR RAIL AD. MEN

YOSEMITE, July 24.—An unusual exhibition was given here yesterday for the benefit of thousands of visitors when the Railroad Advertising Agents' party which has been touring northern California wended its way up the trail on horseback from Yosemite Lodge to the Glacier Point hotel. Each member of the party wore a bright colored cowboy neckerchief, pinned with a large button advertising the Yosemite rodeo to be held August 4 and 5. The procession was led by guides decked out in their wildest garb. A large staff of photographers and motion picture cameramen were on hand to film the scene.

BANKERS IN CONCLAVE.
NEW YORK, July 24.—Twenty American bankers left last night for Montreal, where financial and commercial arrangements between Canada and the United States will be discussed with Canadian bankers this week.

and Aloha parlors, N. D. G. W., will have joint headquarters. Plans are going forward in charge of a committee of each of the parlors for the entertainment of the members and dances have been planned for both the afternoon and evening of September 9.

$5,000,000 Business With Soviets Signed

NEW YORK, July 24.—Sidney Rich, former American vice-consul in Chemnitz, Saxony, returned on the Caronia yesterday with contracts made with representatives of Soviet Ukraine, by which, he said, an American syndicate hopes to carry on trade with Russia with a minimum of danger from non-recognition of property rights and confiscation. The contracts cover business to the amount of at least $5,000,000, Rich said.

To carry them out, he said, it first had been necessary to form a trading company in Holland to act as intermediary between the Ukrainians and the American merchants.

A. P. Editor Dies In Canoe Accident

TICONDEROGA, N. Y., July 24.—Accident involving a canoe, an athletic heart as a contributory factor, caused the death of William A. Caldwell, general early service editor in the New York office of the Associated Press, who was the victim of a canoe accident on Lake George, near here, Saturday.

Caldwell was formerly a celebrated college athlete at Cornell University.

His body was taken last night to his home at Hastrouck Heights, N. J., where funeral services will be held.

The Housewife of Yesterday Never Dreamed of the Laundry Convenience of Today

Today the Laundry is a scientific enterprise. Every known fabric has been analyzed by experts—every known cleansing agency has been studied. As a result the Laundry washes fabrics in exactly the way they should be washed. This means not only thorough cleansing, but it means that the life of your texture is protected and preserved as much as possible.

Today, clothes sent to the Laundry are washed in nine different changes of rain-soft water; they are dried in warm, fresh air; the flat work is neatly finished on special flat work ironers and the wearing apparel is gently ironed in steam-heated presses, which cannot scorch or roughen the finest fabric.

Such methods explain why the laundries of America are serving with satisfaction over 2,000,000 families a week and incidentally why home washing machinery can never become an acceptable substitute for laundry service.

And in the perfection of its methods the Laundry has been able to bring its service within the reach of every housewife. Today the Dry Wash Service will take care of the average wash of a family of three for but ninety cents.

Low Wages Reduce German Products

BERLIN, July 24.—Though there is much more unemployment in Germany with a consequent change, the market in countries with a low exchange is only a seemingly good one. The German industries, for instance, sell their goods for comparatively small prices, the workmen paying the price for the depreciation of the mark by getting minimum wages compared to those of countries with a favorable exchange.

Strange to say, a sudden rise of the mark would involve a grave peril for German economies, as immediately the industries would be unable to export their wares.

'Mystery Girl' in L.A. Slaying Guarded

LOS ANGELES, July 24.—A deputy sheriff has been assigned to guard the "mystery girl" who is said to have identified Mrs. Clara Phillips as the purchaser of the hammer with which Mrs. Alberta Meadows was alleged to have been beaten to death.

That announcement came from the sheriff's office together with a statement that the reason was the receipt by the young saleswoman of threatening messages by telephone.

She has been termed the "mystery girl" by sheriff's deputies because they decline to make her name public.

Slayer and Victim Buried Side by Side

REDDING, July 24.—Funeral services for Jeffery Hildreth were held here yesterday. The body was then taken to the Fall River cemetery, where it was interred practically side by side with that of his slayer, Monte P. Rose, who committed suicide shortly after killing Hildreth, and whose body was brought 140 miles over country roads Saturday in order that it might finally lie near that of his former life-long friend.

Jeffery Hildreth was killed late Friday by Rose near Carrville, in a dispute which had its origin in a lawsuit for $100 over a year ago.

The rules are simple, as follows: The titles must be written on a postcard and addressed to Title Editor, OAKLAND TRIBUNE. Titles must not exceed twelve words in length.

They must reach The OAKLAND TRIBUNE by Thursday night following the Monday the picture is published. One person may send in as many titles as he wishes, but only two on one postcard. Postcards must not be enclosed in envelopes. Letters will not be eligible. Postcards must bear only the title and the name and address and no message whatsoever. Winners will be announced each Sunday.

Making History.

INFANT MORTALITY in past ages has been something frightful, something almost beyond belief, and even today it occupies the time and the mind of leading physicians in all countries. The death rate among infants is being gradually reduced through new methods of hygiene, new preventatives and new remedies for infants. This reduction in the death rate has NOT been accomplished by adapting the precautions taken and remedies used by adults. Rather has it been to keep clear of the old methods, and choose after long research the precautions and remedies specifically applicable to infants.

This being so, is it necessary for us to caution mothers against trying to give her baby relief with a remedy that she would use for herself? Will she remember that Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for infants and children?

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Of Course You Love Your Baby.

You love it because of its very helplessness, because it can't tell you what is the matter when it feels bad. It can only cry and look to you for help. But the more you love baby, the more you want to help baby, the more you ought to realize what a wonderful remedy Fletcher's Castoria is. It has been used for babies' ailments for over thirty years.

An experienced doctor discovered Fletcher's Castoria especially for babies' use. It is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrup. Doctors who know what is safe and best for babies have only good to say of it.

Don't neglect your baby. Get a bottle of Fletcher's Castoria and give baby a few doses of it. See how the little one smiles at you as if trying to thank you for helping it. Soon you will learn to depend on Fletcher's Castoria, made just for Infants and Children, and of course you would not think of using anything for them that was not prepared especially for Infants and Children. So keep it in the house.

SAN LEANDRO

OFFICER PROBES 'DEATH GROANS,' DISCOVERS MILL

SAN LEANDRO, July 24.—Somewhere in San Leandro a practical joker is chuckling to himself over the discomfort of Louis Bacon, night man of the city marshal's office. At 3 a. m. this morning Bacon was aroused from his slumbers by the ringing of the telephone bell. A low voice excitedly informed him that someone was dying or being murdered at the corner of East Fourteenth street and Callan avenue. "There are groans and sort of screams; hurry, hurry!" informed the voice, Bacon hurried. He approached the house designated. Sure enough, he heard a muffled shriek, and then groans and moans. He rang the bell, and to the man who appeared at the upstairs window, stated his errand. "G'wan home," snapped the disturbed one. "o-body's dying, or getting killed. Somebody's kidding you; that's only the squeaky windmill out in the back yard."

Legion Arranging For Joint Dance

SAN LEANDRO, July 24.—Members of the American Legion Post No. 217 and the Ladies Auxiliary are making early plans for a joint dance in September, funds derived to help defray the expenses of the delegates to the annual convention, to be held at San Jose. The joint affair, it was stated, would be on a larger scale than any yet attempted here. Committees will be appointed at the next meeting of the post.

The first birthday of the San Leandro Legion will be held next Friday night, at Odd Fellows' Hall. Women of the auxiliary will be the guests of honor. The affair will be in the form of a banquet and entertainment.

Work on Water System Held Up

SAN LEANDRO, July 24.—Proposed additions and improvements to the water system of San Leandro, will be held over until the results of the November election, on the Power and Water bill, are determined. It was decided at a meeting of members of the trustee board here yesterday. R. H. Goodwin, city engineer, met with the officials and advised that course of procedure.

Amador Corporation Assessments Stand

JACKSON, July 24.—Large reductions in assessments have been refused two large corporations doing business in this county. The board of supervisors, sitting as a board of equalization, heard rejected the applications of the McKisick cattle company and the Plymouth Consolidated Mining company, asking reductions of $100,000 and $50,000 respectively.

STEEL MAGNATE UPON SICKBED SEES SON WED

CLEVELAND, O., July 24.—Colonel Walter Scranton, former president of the Lackawanna Steel company and a descendant of Moses Scranton, who founded the Pennsylvania town of that name, saw his son, Joseph, married to Miss Beulah Benedict of Vergennes, Vermont, as he lay in his bed at a hospital here Saturday. It became known late last night.

Colonel Scranton has been undergoing treatment at the clinic for some months. Last week it was thought an operation might be necessary and the wedding was hastened. The bride has been a protegee of the steel manufacturer since she was a child, friends said. She came here with Colonel Scranton in February. A doctor, nurse and Colonel Scranton were the only witnesses to the marriage. The bridegroom gave his age as 41 and the bride 25. Colonel Scranton is 72.

Arguments Begun In Obenchain Case

LOS ANGELES, July 24.—Arguments to the jury were begun here today in the second trial of Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain for the murder of her sweetheart, J. Belton Kennedy, a young broker. Mrs. Obenchain has expressed herself as confident of acquittal—so confident, she declared, that she already had begun packing her possessions in preparation for leaving the county jail, where she has been a prisoner nearly a year. Then, she said, she was going back to her former husband, Ralph R. Obenchain, and a home he was preparing for her in Evanston, Ill. Several months ago Obenchain, while acting as her attorney, obtained a license here to re-marry the woman who had divorced him, but the authorities refused to permit the marriage to take place.

If you see it in The TRIBUNE tell them so.

Why not a vacation for Mother?

Most everyone else is enjoying a vacation at this season—and if you'll send us the family washing we will give Mother a vacation also. We'll give her a day's vacation every week.

Everything is laundered by us as you would launder it personally—in rainsoft water with suds of pure, neutral soap. And we iron and finish everything in the same "homey" way.

Your things last longer when washed our way because we use just the same gentle methods and materials you use in your own home.

You'll like this service, also, for its economy—it saves for you in time, labor and money.

Encourage Mother to try our way next washday. Just bundle up the clothes, and telephone.

EPISCOPALIANS, BAPTISTS OPEN ASILOMAR MEET

Two Conferences. Launched Simultaneously; Big Attendance From Bay.

ASILOMAR, July 23.—Delegates to the Baptist Summer Assembly, which opened here last night began arriving in great numbers yesterday. A delegation of fifty young people from the San Francisco Bay region arrived in a body. There is a lively contest on between the members from this district and those from the San Joaquin valley, a challenge having been issued as to which shall send the largest delegation.

Delegates to the Episcopal Conference, which meets simultaneously with the Baptist, opened their meetings yesterday morning with early communion service at 7 o'clock.

Last evening the Baptists held their vesper service on the tennis court beyond the circle fronting the Administration building, afterward meeting in Social hall where the dean, Dr. M. L. Thomas, of San Francisco, introduced members of the faculty and Miss Amelia C. Johnson, manager of the Asilomar, warmly welcomed the delegates in the name of the National Y. W. C. A.

"ALICE IN HUNGERLAND." The Episcopalians met in the auditorium last night, where the motion picture, "Alice in Hungerland," was given in the interests of the Near East Relief. Dr. Lloyd B. Thomas, rector of Trinity church, Oakland, is dean of the Episcopal conference, and the dean of the Baptist assembly is Dr. Millard L. Thomas of San Francisco.

Four national officers from New York are on the faculty of the Episcopal conference—Dr. Charles N. Lathrop, who preached the Sunday morning sermon in the auditorium; Dr. William E. Gardner, Miss Emily C. Tolson and Miss Frances H. Withers. They are en route to Portland, Ore., where the general convention of the Episcopal church meets September 6, to continue for a month. This convention, which meets by ones in three years, is the most important gathering of the denomination.

BAPTISTS' FACULTY.

On the Baptist Assembly faculty are Dr. Gilbert N. Ewert, of Philadelphia, general secretary of the American Baptist Publication Society, and William B. Lippard, of New York, associate secretary of the American Baptist Foreign Missionary Society. He has recently returned from Europe, where he went with a ship carrying a million dollars' worth of supplies to Russia, Poland and Czechoslovakia. Dr. James A. White, of Chicago, national secretary of the Baptist Young People's Union of America, is also on the faculty. Other members of the faculty include Dr. C. W. Brinstad, of San Francisco, who is scheduled to preach at the Sunday evening sermon in the auditorium; Dr. Charles R. Shepherd and Mrs. Carrie A. Robinson of San Francisco; Hugh W. Thomas, Dr. John Snapp, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Oakland; Rev. and Mrs. Ralph N. Rowe of Oakland, who will have charge of the music; Rev. and Mrs. Arthur J. Wiley, of Watson Brown and Miss Helen Hobart, of Sacramento; M. L. Askin and Miss Myrtle M. Love, of Fresno.

Cinderella Meets Fairy Prince

FARM PRODUCTS SHOW PROMISES TO SET RECORD

HAYWARD, July 24.—The Eden Farm Products show, which is to open on August 9, will be the biggest of the annual shows ever held in Hayward, declare the men in charge of the affair. Already the list of prizes and the early entries of exhibits surpass those in hand at the same time last year and all over the township enthusiasm for the show seems to be growing.

The committee in charge of promotion made a bold move on Saturday when an invitation was sent to President Harding to attend the show when he comes next month, but the management declares there is no reason why the President should not be expected to attend the Eden Farm Products show as well as similar events in larger cities. Already plans are being discussed for handling the crowds in case an acceptance of the invitation is received.

The $1000 voted by the board of supervisors on July 13 will bring the total amount available for prizes to more than ever before has been offered.

Dress rehearsals for the pageant which is to be the feature of the Eden Farm Products show have already begun and the children, under the careful training they are given, even now are almost letter perfect in their parts. Mrs. Carol Kelly and Miss Marie Zabala are in charge of this portion of the entertainment.

The queen of the show is to be chosen on August 5, when the results of the contest which is now going on will be officially announced.

Bay Chiroparactics

Give Housewarming

Chiroparactics about the bay met with students of the West Coast Chiroparactic College at the housewarming of the new headquarters of the college at Eighth and Bush streets Saturday night. The program consisted of refreshments, dancing, speeches and musical entertainment.

The speakers included Dr. L. D. McCarth, Judge Bunker, Dr. J. A. McCarl and Dr. J. Walter Bell. Among those present were Grant D. Miller, Mrs. Heald, Charles M. Peck and J. H. Long, superintendent of the Western Pacific.

Soldier Held On

Check Charge Freed

Because of his good conduct during two enlistments in the United States army, Ray L. Brown, colored soldier stationed at the Presidio, who is charged with passing a fictitious check, was released today on his own recognizance by Police Judge Edward J. Tyrrell.

The check was cashed at the Young Men's Christian Association about three months ago. He had signed the name of A. O. Newman, 536 Thirty-second street.

On the plea that he would make good the check the case was continued until September 18.

Jury Retires in

Auto Killing Case

The jury in the case of Frank B. Freitas, Hayward youth charged with manslaughter, retired shortly following the noon recess today, and began its deliberation of the testimony and evidence in an effort to reach a verdict. Freitas is accused of causing the death of Mrs. Frederick Perry, 1202 East Twenty-eighth street, in an automobile accident April 23 at the corner of Twelfth and Madison streets.

Boy Drowns in Swim

As Family Watches

STOCKTON, July 24.—Joseph Pierce, 17, lost his life yesterday while attempting to swim across the Smith canal at Dad's Point, a city park west of Stockton. His mother, two sisters and a brother witnessed the drowning. One brother almost lost his life in an ineffectual attempt at rescue. A sister also entered the water, but was unable to reach the drowning lad. The body was recovered a half hour later.

G. A. R. WILL SEE ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Veterans of the Civil war, both Union and Confederate, will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Columbia theater, in San Francisco, to see Frank McMillan in "Abraham Lincoln," played especially for them. In addition to the Civil war veterans, the wounded veterans of the World war will also attend. The veterans will be hosts of the Women's Overseas League of the bay district. The veterans from both sides of the bay will attend.

A uniform is the admission ticket. All those who are not federal trainees are requested to wear uniforms, while the trainees will be given tickets by their training officers.

This is the first time so far as known that veterans of both sides of the Civil war have been called together to witness a play depicting Abraham Lincoln. The bitterness of '61 to '65, which made brother fight brother, has long since changed to a genuine friendliness that comes to those who are associated together in comradeship, and a gathering tomorrow afternoon at the Columbia to witness the presentation of "Abraham Lincoln" by Frank McMillan, the veteran actor and idol, will be unique in the annals of the two veteran bodies.

Mrs. Eugene K. Sturgis of Oakland, member of the Women's Overseas League, is head of the hostess committee.

Suspect Faces Trial

On Woman's Charge

Joe Marenger today was held to answer in the Superior Court to a charge of attempted assault by Police Judge Edward J. Tyrrell. He was arrested on the complaint of Mrs. Mable Rose three weeks ago in Reno, Nev.

CONVERTS WILL FORM CHURCH

A group of Althea McPherson converts have organized a new church, which is to be known as the "Four Square Gospel, Baptist Church of Oakland."

The first meeting of those who voiced their intention of organizing the new church was held yesterday morning at the home of Mrs. P. G. Rothrock, 146 Lake street. Among the leaders of the move are many of those who were active in bringing Mrs. McPherson to the city to conduct the revival.

Dr. Thomas R. Gale has been temporarily invited to head the new organization and assist it in the formation of its new plans. Mrs. K. Knox of Oakland was elected as secretary and treasurer. Meetings are to be held this week, when a permanent meeting place will be selected and other plans are to be mapped out. A permanent minister will be selected and plans for financing the church made.

Foe of Policeman

Lands in Hospital

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—Fred Delander, 59 Clay street, is at the Central Emergency hospital with a fractured skull following a fight, caused, it is alleged, by his resisting arrest early today at the hands of Policemen James Phelan of the Harbor station. The officer attempted to take Delander into custody for a slight infraction of the law, when the other is alleged to have fought him off. A second man interfered and in the struggle the policeman drew his club. Whether Delander's skull was broken from a blow from the billy or a fall to the pavement is not known.

The crime is alleged to have been committed on June 16, 1921. Marenger, it is charged, was ransacking Mrs. Rose's apartment when she returned home. After he had gathered up the loot he attempted to attack her, she asserted. Mrs. Rose resides at 815 Grove street. Last week Marenger was bound over to the higher court on a charge of burglary.

LLOYD GEORGE TO MEET POINCARE ON MORATORIUM

English, French Premiers to Discuss Respite for Germany in August.

PARIS, July 24 (By the Associated Press).—A conference between David Lloyd George, the British prime minister, and Raymond Poincare, the French premier, to discuss the question of a moratorium for Germany has been arranged for the first part of August.

It is the realization in French circles that the reparations question has reached a decisive crisis. The fact that M. Poincare will be accompanied to London by Minister of Finance De Lasteyrie, as well as technical experts from both the foreign affairs and financial ministries, is regarded here as indicating that the fate of the German moratorium is more likely to be decided at London than at Paris.

REPORT NOT READY.

The report of the guarantees committee is not yet ready, but M. Mauguere, of the committee, showed M. Poincare a draft of the report last night. It was after reading it that he wired Premier Lloyd George he would be ready to meet him August 1. The report will be handed to the reparations commission the middle or end of this week and the decision of the commission is not expected before the 3rd or 4th of August, when, according to the present plans, M. Poincare will be in London.

It was learned yesterday that the French viewpoint now is that before a long-term moratorium is granted to Germany, supplementary reforms and additional guarantees should be demanded.

MORATORIUM CONDITIONS.

The effect of reforms and guarantees, added to the results expected from new financial control to be installed in Germany by the reparations commission, the French hold, would insure the floating and placing of a German foreign loan. Such a plan, providing important resources for the restoration of the devastated regions would mean permit of the granting to Germany of a prolonged cash moratorium.

Other angles of the reparations question are to be discussed in London. The French are reported to favor, first, cancellation of interest on war debts without subordinating cancellation to a similar decision by the United States; second, an agreement by which reparations payments should be assigned specially to restoring the devastated regions, and third, assurance that German foreign loans, the proceeds of which are destined for reparations, shall be issued with the briefest possible delay.

PETITION FOR LETTERS.

A petition for letters of administration in the estate of the late Mrs. Ione B. White of this city was filed today on behalf of Mabel E. Stewart, 2438 Twenty-first avenue, Oakland, a daughter. The estate is valued at $29,844.

BOY IN MACHINE HURT BY BALL FROM SANDLOT

Sand-lot baseball was responsible yesterday for interrupting a Sunday automobile ride when a ball hit from the Oakland lot crashed through the windshield of an automobile in which Clarence Snow, 13, of 2626 Twenty-fifth avenue, was riding. Snow was taken to the Oakland Receiving hospital, where he was treated for several cuts caused by flying pieces of broken glass.

Steamer Libelled

As Collision Result

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—Damages to the amount of $306,850 were asked in the Federal court today when a libel was filed against the steamer Harry Luckenbach, which, July 16, collided with the steamer Henry T. Scott, resulting in the sinking of the latter vessel.

The disaster occurred in the Straits of Juan de Fuca, opposite Duane Rock. The Henry T. Scott was a total loss and the owners ask $300,000 as the value of the vessel, $6000 for wages due the crew and $500 as the amount of money on board when she was sunk. The libel was filed by Fred Linderman, J. R. Christy, Michael Thompson, executor of the estate of R. J. Tyson, and Kate G. Peterson, executrix of the estate of L. A. Peterson.

Muddy Roads Delay

'Henry and Me' Talk

TOPEKA, Kansas, July 24.—(By United Press.)—Muddy roads caused the postponement today of Governor Henry J. Allen's invasion of William Allen White's home town, Emporia, to speak at the scheduled "Henry and Me" day.

Governor Allen had planned to motor to White's town early today. Heavy rains spoiled the trip and the first meeting with his "pal," White, on the town and were surrounding the Burlington shops.

The governor announced he would go by train tonight to Emporia and make his scheduled address at the normal school there tomorrow morning.

'Floaters' Invade

Town; Aid Asked

LINCOLN, Neb., July 24.—Appeals for help were received by the Lincoln police department at noon today from the mayor of Havlock. Two hundred "floaters," believed to be members of the I. W. W., the mayor said, had swooped down on the town and were surrounding the Burlington shops.

A large force of deputy sheriffs and deputies of the United States marshal, armed with shotguns, were rushed to the railroad town by automobile from this city.

Despondent Woman

Kills Self in L. A.

DENVER, Colo., July 24.—Despondency was believed to have caused Mrs. Delta Kirst, 40, to kill herself in her apartment here yesterday, according to police today. The woman's body was found with a bullet wound in her head.

Mrs. Kirst left a note stating that "the pressure of this world is too great." The note also directed that her son, P. W. Kirst, Los Angeles, be notified.

N.S.G.W. TO FETE ADMISSION DAY

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—In following out the plan adopted at a recent session of the grand parlor of the N. S. G. W., a statewide celebration of Admission Day will be held on September 9 in which Oakland, San Francisco and other cities of the bay region will play a prominent part. San Jose has been selected for this year's gathering.

In planning the union celebration the grand parlor, did away with the plan which has been in operation for a few years when regional observances of Admission Day were held.

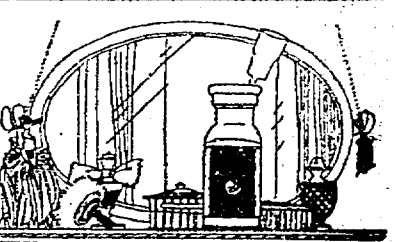

An enthusiastic meeting was held last week in Native Sons hall when plans were made for the San Francisco parlor to attend the affair. A demonstration is planned for the night of September 8 when the parlor will leave for San Jose. Floats are being designed and numerous floats to spruce up the parade are being made.

The special committee for the Admission Day celebration includes the following: Finance, Charles Joseph Rose and Dr. F. L. Gonzalez; transportation, J. M. Peckham; James Foley and Agnes Tracy; records, Perry Abrahamson; E. T. Greenblatt and Max Barry; publicity, George F. Barry; Henry Faurer and Edna Jones; printing, Herbert de la Rosa and Mrs. M. A. Merdones; police and firemen, Helen Mann and Henry Faurer; public relations, Judge James G. Conlan; Thomas Burke; Emma Tolman and Mary Condon.

Oil Concern Officer

The Story of Mankind

By HENDRIK VAN LOON

THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE, every Sunday, is publishing what is conceded to be the greatest history ever written, covering all phases of epochal life from jellyfish to civilization.

The Saturday Evening Post, in the leading editorial in its issue of April 29, under the heading of "A Really Shocking Book," said that "THE STORY OF MANKIND," by Hendrik van Loon, had all the thrills of a Nick Carter detective story and would revolutionize school history.

It takes an advertising man to appreciate a history running over with such phrases as: "Napoleon is what is called a fast worker." * * * "When he was seventeen years old, he suddenly pushed Sister Sophia from the throne." (The Rise of Russia.) * * * "Then came the Dark Ages. The barbarian was the proverbial bull in the china-shop of Western Europe. He had no use for what he did not understand." Speaking in terms of the year 1921, van Loon liked the magazine covers of pretty ladies, but threw the Rembrandt etchings which he had inherited into the ash-can. Soon he came to learn better. Then he tried to undo the damage which he had created a few years before. But the ash-cans were gone and so were the pictures.

That's van Loon!

Over 50,000 copies of "The Story of Mankind" already sold have made van Loon a "national institution."

He's on the staff of The Oakland TRIBUNE now, for every week "The Story of Mankind," a book that costs $5, will run serially in the Magazine Section. Each week's pages may be saved, and at the conclusion the subscriber will possess a copy of this marvelous book, with all the wonderful illustrations, free of charge.

Geraldine's SHOULDER

Listen, World!

I NEVER knew that Pants had such a mighty message for humanity. However, these were not ordinary pants—they were Super-pants. They were worn by a million, more or less, Shriners at that convention in San Francisco.

Now, considering the social prejudices of the Anglo-Saxons, it is probable that those same Shriners had worn pants before. Regular pants—black, brown, gray pants. Thus attired they had gone about their humble duties in a correspondingly drab mood. But now their day of days had come!

His store pants, hur! in the closet at home and something within John Henry cried aloud—"At last I shall pant myself as I should be panted!" And forthwith he burst into Pantis-mon. Purple, crimson, orange, cerise, emerald, heliotrope, azure, lemon—pant of silk, satin and velvet swept their baggy folds under sashes still more hectic, bordering gold embroidered jackets whose colors bled the dictionary. From the tip of his scarlet fez to the points of his turned up, red morocco shoes, John Henry was a ramping, roaring, rioting rainbow.

But it wasn't the color that amazed me, no, it was the thought that all through those drab years when he wore gray pants and peddled real estate, hot dogs, dry goods, law, medicine or talcum powder, John Henry had the capacity for those purple pants deep within his ego and never once burst loose. But when he had discarded his tweeds, out rumped that other psychology and John Henry was Bedouin three feet deep with all the world his speedway! After all, why not wait for a Shriner parade to stage such transformation? Have you a Purple Pants Complex in your cosmos? Then Letter G! Stop tuning your soul down to the drab limitations of life-as-it-is and grab for life-as-it-may-be. Put a Shriner costume on your spirit, and keep it there. Be a kid! Be a gypsy! Be Aliadin! With six colors of magic working overtime! Let loose some of your dreams and laughter! Show the world the gold embroidery on your soul! What's the reason for this drab stuff anyway? (Copyright 1922)

My Marriage Problems

Clare Garrison's New Phase Of Revelations of a Wife

THE SUGGESTION BESS DEAN MADE FOR A FISHING TRIP.

With warnings from both Dicky and Lillian fled away in my mental reference library, I could not help watching Bess Dean furtively when two days after her unfortunate tripping down from Wile's mountain, she was in evidence again in our mountain family circle. As we might have guessed from our knowledge of her vanity, she did not join us until she was able to walk without a limp, and there had disappeared all trace of the unfortunate consequences of her insisting upon wearing my sneakers, two sizes too small for her.

But if she cherished any resentment against me as Dicky and Lillian had predicted, and was planning any "come-back" for the humiliation I unwittingly had been the means of giving her, she showed no sign of it when she joined us at breakfast after her two days' absence. She was as gay, as charmingly insouciant as ever, and when we all had dutifully inquired after the wreckage back which we all knew was coming for her swollen feet, and had been answered with the assurance that all discomfort had disappeared, we joined her in the tacit relegation of the unfortunate trip to the tomb of forgotten things.

"THAT SETTLES IT"

"The bullheads are biting, Pa." Fred put his head in at the dining-room door. He had breakfasted before the rest of us and gone up the road. Next to his father, Fred is the most ardent devotee of 'ol Izak Walton. I ever have known his face mirrored his enthusiasm.

"Who says so?" Pa Cosgrove turned in his chair at the head of the table, his deep set eyes sparkling at the lure.

"Sam Patch. He caught ninety last night, he said, just as fast as he could pull 'em out of the water."

"Where?"

"Over dam."

"That settles it—I'm going to-night! How about it, Mother?" He looked at his wife with half-ludicrous, half-chamfered pleading. I long ago had observed that his business, I ever have known his face mirrored his enthusiasm.

"When my woodboxes are filled, and my chickens caught, killed and cleaned for tomorrow's dinner, I have no objection to your making the fifteen minute trip to the fishing hole."

"The big man flushed a trifle under his tan."

"Now, Mother," he said, "be good. I haven't been fishing in a moon's age. And I'm going to everything before I go, and bring you back a fine mess of bullheads for tomorrow morning's breakfast. Did you ever eat bullheads, folks?" He turned to the rest of us, patently trying to escape from conjugal criticism.

"If I have I've forgotten it," Dicky said. "But I'll try anything once."

"If you had, you'd never have forgotten it," Mr. Cosgrove declared didactically. "They're the sweetest eating of any pan-fish in the world. Of course your real fish anglers look down on fishing for 'em, but I don't. I'll tell you, even the pickerel. But it's the best season for trout, and the pickerel don't bite at night, and the time I like to go fishing. And there hasn't been a pickerel caught this year, anyway. But your trout sharks don't know the fun there is in sitting on a great rock down there by the big dam, with your pipe making the only light you have besides the lantern you shut off most of the time, and hauling in those bullheads one right after the other. The big ones give you quite a little fight, too."

Sleepy Dan

Dan Dopey—
Was a hound for sleep—
He loved to park himself—
Among the feathers—
At sound of curfew—
And dream that every day—
Would be Sunday bye-and-bye—
So he could get his fill of sleep—
And holidays just meant to Dan—
A long, long sleep—
And when he heard a preacher tell—
Of that "eternal sleep"—
Dan grinned full wide—
And seemed quite pleased.
Dan had to catch the seven fifteen—
Each working day—
And so he set his old alarm—
To waken him—
Just as the local turned the bend—
And whistled loud.
And Dan would make it on the jump—
With collar, hat and tie in hand—
Then yawningly he'd dig the sleep—
From out his bleary eyes—
And clothe himself—
With sighs that reached the still warm bed—
So soon deserted.
When on the boat Dan went below—
For just a slug of coffee—
Then dismally to his work he went.
And all day long Dan watched the clock—
Upon the wall—
And sometimes he got up to see—
If it had stopped—
It went so slow—
And so Dan went his woozy way—
From day to day—
And oftentimes there came the call—
Of opportunity—
But Dan's mind never seemed to catch—
The broadcast—
The lure of fame played Dan no tricks—
He was content—
To listen for the whistle's sound—
For quitting time—
The milestones in Dan's doleful life—
Were curfew calls—to bed—
And time went by, but still Dan's life—
Was just a mighty snore—
And one day they promoted Dan—
It pleased him mighty.
They made him night watch at the plant—
His cup was overflowing—
For now he sleeps both night and day—
He only wakes to draw his pay—
So Dan is happy.

Tribune Clarice Patterns

(No. 1435)

Why not a touch of daintiness on your apron? It gives you good service and protects the clothes which you take out every day while the poor apron is hanging up behind the door in the kitchen, so let us give the apron a little touch of something new for an apron—embroidery.

This trim apron with its bib section joined to a one-piece gathered skirt can be made in about three hours at a cost of about 50c if you use unbleached muslin at 14c a yard and finish it off with binding at 9c per yard. Of course the time which you take to add the embroidery is in addition to the estimate given of the time it would take you to make the apron.

The pattern No. 1435 cuts in sizes 36, 40 and 44 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 2 1/4 yards of 36-inch material. Price 15c, stamps or coin. Transfer pattern No. 622—in blue only—15c extra.

How to Obtain Clarice Patterns Write your name and address plainly, including city, giving the number and size of such patterns as you want. Inclose 15 cents in stamps or coin (wrap coin carefully) for each number and address your order to Clarice Pattern Bureau, Oakland TRIBUNE, Oakland, Calif. CHAPTER 36.

The Confidence Man.

Foremost among the confidence artists was Mrs. Cassie Chadwick, who through the use of the name of Andrew Carnegie cut a big swath in New York, wrecked an Ohio bank, involved many prominent men whom she met at a public house which she maintained, and finally was apprehended.

Mrs. Chadwick definitely belonged to the "confidence" group because she relied upon intimate contact with people. The swindler cannot be called a confidence man because he does not try to worm himself into the confidence of each particular victim. Apparently he sells something on his merits. The bunco man "gets his" by trick and device. But the confidence artist plays upon the sympathies and weaknesses of his victim, relying upon his personality and magnetism to pull him through.

Such a woman was Mrs. Chadwick, noted as a forger, adventuress and thief.

Mrs. Chadwick got her first start through a trick. She won the confidence of a doctor, who accompanied her to Andrew Carnegie's home. The doctor warned while she faked a visit with Carnegie. When Mrs. Chadwick came out she showed the doctor what purported to be notes for $20,000 signed by the big financier. She said that she was really a daughter of Carnegie. This news was too good to keep and the doctor, a very well known personage, spread the report.

Mrs. Chadwick then went to a bank, deposited in a safe a vault what purported to be a trust deed for $10,146,000, a note for $5,000,000 and another note for $1,250,000, all of which she said were signed by Andrew Carnegie. There was nothing cheap about this woman. She made out a list of the securities which she said the package contained, and gave a duplicate to the banker.

Some time later she telephoned the banker and said that she had lost her list. The banker made out another list in his own handwriting, signed his name to it and sent it to her by messenger. Thus Mrs. Chadwick had a receipt for many millions in securities signed by this bank president.

Using this receipt, she showed it to other bankers and obtained large sums of money. She drew out so much money from an Ohio bank on false securities that she wrecked it.

When the supposed Carnegie securities were taken from the deposit box, they were found to be blank paper.

Cassie Chadwick to this day is referred to by "con men" as the greatest of the confidence fraternity.

Every "con" man has his own method of procedure. There are as many different confidence games, almost as there are operators.

The Italians have a stunt which they call the "box trick." Well, say that Arturo Salvini is a rich and pious man who holds onto his shekels tightly. A very affable man, Bosco, gets acquainted with him. Bosco will know what he wants the moment the game is pulled. He will learn where Salvini keeps his money, how much he has, and will understand the victim's weaknesses.

When Salvini and Bosco are talking, Crook No. 2 will come along with a package. "Can you direct me to a priest?" he will ask. Questioning will reveal that Crook No. 2 is a $50,000 in that box which his uncle in Texas has just left, with the provision that it be distributed among the poor. Crook No. 2 is seeking a priest to aid him in spending this money.

Bosco says: "Let us help you spend it." The philanthropist demurs, saying that he wants someone who is responsible, someone who has money. "Well, I have money," protests Bosco. About this time Salvini chips in, saying he has money also.

Finally Bosco draws a big roll of paper, with one or two bills wrapped around it, and throws it into the box with the philanthropist's money. "There is my guarantee," he says. Salvini then goes and gets $50,000 and also puts it in the box. The box with the key is turned over to Salvini. The victim's attention is then distracted and another box, exactly the same as the other, is substituted for that containing the money. When Salvini opens up the box which he thinks contains $50,000, he finds nothing but newspapers. It is all a trick, no one but the Italian has been able to work this trick successfully and that no other nationality has succeeded in swindling an Italian with it.

Odysseus Fools Circe.

CHAPTER 107.

THE God of the sea had been angry with Odysseus. He drove the ships of the Greek king from place to place. One day Odysseus anchored in the harbor of an island which proved to be the home of giants called Cyclopes. One giant almost put an end to the Greek leader, but he finally escaped. Soon after their escape, Odysseus and his men came to another island and were getting ready to land when they discovered that the island was inhabited by giants just as vicious as the one whom Odysseus had fooled. The giants hurried on, bemoaning the death of their comrades. By and by, they landed on an island containing a beautiful palace. A group of sailors left the shore for the palace, while Odysseus and the rest remained near the ship. Those who went to the palace were welcomed by a lovely but cruel woman named Circe. She was an enchantress.

In the palace grounds were wolves, tigers and lions. They were tame, for they were really men in the form of beasts. Circe had changed them with her magic wand. When the Greek sailors came, she turned all except one into hogs! The man who escaped ran and told Odysseus.

Resolving to do what he could for his comrades, the hero started toward the palace. On the way he met Hermes, who warned him about Circe. Odysseus would not turn back, so the god gave him a milk-white herb to guard him against magic.

Circe saw Odysseus and smiled upon him, then warned her wayward guests to go to the pigsty. To her amazement, the charm did not work. Odysseus drew his sword and made her promise not to try any more of her magic. Circe was impressed by the heroic look of her visitor, and her attitude changed. She ordered her servants to set the finest food and drink before him.

Odysseus, worrying about his companions, did not eat. "If you really care about my welfare," he said to Circe, "turn my sailors back to men."

Beauty Talks by LUCREZIA BORI

HOW TO MAKE BREATHING EXERCISES IMPROVE THE BEAUTY OF YOUR CHEST.

A poorly developed figure is a great detriment to the beauty of any woman. Of course, clothes will, to a certain extent, conceal some of the defects which mar her appearance. If, however, she has a sunken or narrow chest, its lack of beauty will be more strongly emphasized every time she dons her evening gown. Should she have no occasion to wear evening clothes, she may lament the poor contour of her chest when she wears a dress especially to reveal the neck and shoulder line.

Now, one of the best ways to raise your chest and increase your chest expansion is to do some breathing exercises daily. A few minutes devoted two or three times a day to this will greatly change the appearance of your chest. Do not say that you have no time if you are in earnest about improving your appearance.

These exercises may be done without the aid of any accessories, and may be done at any time. Perhaps you will find it is easier for you to exercise for a few minutes in the morning as well as in the evening, rather than to take fifteen to twenty minutes at one time.

It is immaterial so long as you determine to exercise regularly, and keep it up. When doing such exercises you should wear as little clothing as possible, for you want your muscles to be absolutely unrestricted.

In the first exercise, stand erect and inhale quickly as much air as you possibly can. Now hold your breath for a quarter of a minute or longer. Then empty your lungs as completely as possible. This you can do by relaxing your chest muscles and forcing in the muscles of the abdomen. Repeat this exercise twice. Then, as you become stronger, increase the number of times until you can keep it up easily for six times.

In the second exercise you should again assume the erect position with your chin well drawn in. Now, inhale very slowly all the air you can and hold it as you did in the first exercise. Next, exhale very slowly, but do not relax your chest muscles. Repeat this again, and gradually do it until you can easily keep it up for six times.

In the third exercise you should inhale very slowly. Simultaneously rise on your toes and swing your arms to their full length sideways. Now touch the sides of your forefingers lightly over the top of your head. Then, as you swing your arms back again to your sides and sink again to your heels, exhale very slowly. In this exercise you should not hold your breath between the movements.

You can regulate the speed of this exercise by counting one on the upward motion and two as you swung your arms downward again. Repeat this exercise at least ten times. Of course, at first you may not feel equal to doing this more than three or four times, but gradually repeat the number until you can do it ten times with the greatest ease.

In the fourth exercise, stand erect with your arms extended straight to the front and your palms touching. Now, breathing naturally, force your arms backward and downward quickly, and try to touch the tips of the back of your fingers behind the small of your back.

This exercise may be done for as many as twenty times, provided you do not tire yourself. Of course, if you have not been accustomed to exercise, or you are at all run-down, the least exertion in the way of exercise may prove rather tiring to you. In this case, use your judgment and, if necessary, exercise more slowly, and repeat the exercise fewer times until you have accustomed yourself to the different movements.

CLARA
HARRIS
R. A. S.

I cannot explain why the following sentence seems to me to be a child's chatter but I can assure the World it made me as indignant as it made the writer of this letter and I'm with her on every count.

GIVEN TEN DAYS FOR BEATING CHILD.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 3.—Mrs. Mary Smith, keeper of the home for babies at 2024 Polson street, was given ten days in the county jail today by Police Judge McEneaney without the alternative of a fine for cruelty to children. She is alleged to have beaten Eleanor Smart, 3 1/2 years old. She was given probation on a charge of having beaten a baby farm without a license.

"Dear Jerry: "Belosene" find clipping from TRIBUNE of June 4, which inspires me to seize my pen and give vent through your column. Why only ten days, and not life? And why, in the name of heaven, probation? How much longer is civilization going to permit vicious creatures like this to exist and give vent to their bestial natures by beating the tender bodies of innocent babies? I am with you on this subject, Jerry, and I am with you, solid.

"As for the person who signs herself 'Bitter' in your page of this same issue, she starts out by condemning a girl who wrote a break away from her family and live her own life. In her own way and then proceeds to tell her story of selfishness and hatred for her own wee baby. Can she expect that child to repay such feeling with love and devotion? Hasn't she learned that great law of life, 'We Reap What We Sow'?"

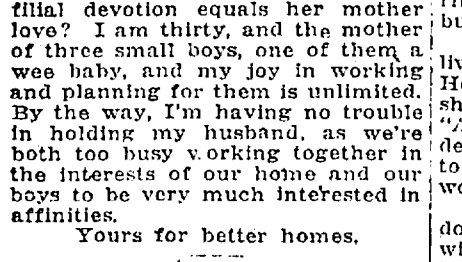

"Where do folks get the idea that we should expect pay from our children for the love and care we give them? We bring them here (they have no choice in the matter) often handicapped physically or mentally, through the ignorance and carelessness of their parents, and then expect them to be the cure which is their right. Your comparison of 'Bitter' with the pig who ate her young was quite fitting. We have the right to remove the less vicious and dangerous of the cruel parents, while the other must go on living and cluttering up the earth. Why doesn't 'Bitter' go to work, and board her little girl with people who would at least care for it, ungrudgingly? Or are her earnings so limited as to make her incapable as a mother?"

Such things make me agree with you more and more on the "community home" idea. All children are entitled to mother love, care and protection. It is impossible, they should at least have the decent care that is their right. I wonder if her filial devotion equals her mother love? I am thirty, and the mother of three small boys, often feeling like a baby, and my joy in working and planning for them is unlimited. By the way, I'm having no trouble in holding my husband, as we're both too busy working together in the interests of our home and our boys to be very much interested in affluence.

Yours for better homes.

BIGGEST TRADE OF SEASON MAKES N. Y. YANKS LOOK STRONGER

EDDIE MAHONEY WILL BE IN GREAT TRIM WHEN HE MEETS JIMMY DUFFY WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Red Sox and Yankees Pull Off Big Trade

Joe Dugan, Elmer Smith Go to N. Y.; Johnny Mitchell in the Deal.

NEW YORK, July 24.—The New York and Boston American clubs closed a deal yesterday by which the Yankees acquire Third Baseman Joe Dugan and Rightfielder Elmer Smith from the Red Sox in exchange for Outfielder Elmer Miller, John Mitchell, substitute shortstop, Wilson Fawcett, infielder, also a pitcher to be selected later.

The deal was closed by Presidents Jacob Ruppert and Barry Frazer of the New York and Boston clubs respectively.

While it was announced that no money was involved in the deal, it is believed here that Boston received a cash consideration to close the transaction. The choice of New York pitchers yet to be made is understood to rest between Frank O'Doul and George Murray.

Both club owners expressed satisfaction with the trade.

Hugh Duffy, Boston manager, said his club needed strengthening at short and in Mitchell he declared he had procured the best shortstop who ever sat on the bench. Mitchell was bought by New York two years ago from the Vernon club of the Pacific Coast League for seven players and cash.

As a result of the latest of a long list of trades between the two teams the New York lineup now is composed almost entirely of former Boston players, while former Yankees are prominent on the Hub outfit.

CLEVELAND, July 24.—"It's a crime," was the comment of Manager Tris Speaker, of the Cleveland Indians, last night, when he learned of the deal between New York and Boston, whereby Joe Dugan and Elmer Smith go to the Yankees for four players.

Speaker said that the entire bunch of New York players traded is not worth $10,000. Speaker continued.

NEW YORK, July 24.—Opinion among baseball men here is almost unanimous in declaring the Yankees got the better of the trade with the Red Sox, made public today.

THE TWO MAIN-EVENTERS

KINSEY BROS. WIN MATCHES ON THE COURT

NEW YORK, July 24.—Robert Kinsey of San Francisco, Metropolitan singles champion, won three matches yesterday in impressive fashion when he got into action in defense of his title for the first time on the turf courts of the Crescent Athletic club, Brooklyn.

Kinsey lost only twelve games in defeating in straight sets J. L. Verstraeten, Paul Martin and W. I. Plitt, all local players.

Howard Kinsey, who with his brother holds the metropolitan doubles title, displayed excellent form in winning two matches, one from S. G. Noyes of New York and the other from the Japanese, S. Ouda.

Simon M. Washburn, member of the 1921 Davis cup team, won his first match easily, defeating H. L. Burroughs, Brooklyn veteran, 6-1, 6-2.

Two Canadians, R. H. M. Richards and L. E. Varley of Vancouver, figured in hard-fought matches, the former winning from E. H. Hendrixson of New York, 6-3, 6-4, 6-4.

Verley lost to Philip P. Neer, Leland Stanford star, in another three-set match, 6-0, 2-6, 6-3.

Dr. J. H. Stinemann, 72-149-12-137, H. B. Blanton, 84-90-174-12-142, H. F. Droste, 96-86-182-36-146, C. B. Barton, 87-83-176-28-143, J. W. Foote and Milton Berners, all returns.

Second flight scores: C. S. Quick, 88-94-182-40-142, D. Mendonell, 91-85-185-35-145, F. M. McHenry, 98-96-194-48-146, G. A. Dow, 93-102-195-48-147, J. W. Morton, 100-95-208-50-148, C. H. Hahner, 103-101-204-54-150, Wm. Thomson, 98-93-191-40-151, R. E. Warner, 101-100-201-50-151, O. H. Hahner, 106-98-201-48-153, Jack Hasler, 109-93-213-50-163, L. S. Dunham, M. J. Madison and J. L. Osborne, no returns.

Members of the Sequoyah Club will be sorry to hear that three of the regular Sequoyah candidates were in an automobile accident late Saturday night. Bill Zwissig and Bud Brown were injured, while Carl Stublefield's injuries proved fatal.

The caddies' tournament, which was arranged for next week (for generous prizes subscribed by the members), will take place, but the boys contemplate turning over the entire proceeds to young Stublefield's mother, who relied to considerable extent on the boy's earnings at Sequoyah.

Walter Hagen, the British open champion, and Joe Kirkwood, the Australian champion and trick shot expert, are notifying the various clubs of their terms for exhibition matches. At Sequoyah the club members are prepared to arrange a match in which the Black brothers would oppose them, but only on a challenge basis of $1000 a side. If the victor challenges this challenge much more interest would be attached to the event than to an exhibition game. The Sequoyah and Charenton members are more than ever convinced that they have never met a better player than John and Bob Black a combination second to none.

SCULL MATCH OFF. MELBOURNE, Australia, July 24.—The sculling match between James Paddon and Richard Arndt for the world's championship, has been declared off. The match was arranged after Paddon defeated Robert Hadfield for the title at Wanganui early in the year.

WITH THE KNIGHTS OF THE GLOVES

BOB SHAND. The West Oakland gymnasium was crowded yesterday afternoon when Jimmy Duffy, Jack Reeves and Al Sange went through their paces. The boys are all in tip top shape for the battles at the auditorium Wednesday evening and Matchmaker Simpson thinks the card will be one of the fastest he has ever staged.

Ray Pelkey, who meets Reeves in one of the two main events, is hitting off a big mouthful, but Ray is not afraid. When Pelkey slapped George Gibbons a pair of times the customers thought it was all wrong. They could not "see" Pelkey as a regular fighter. Then he knocked off a few more "big guys" and the boys reconsidered. He "might" be a real fighter, they thought. When Ray licked Walter Caldwell last week he defeated a boy with a big reputation and the outcome of that scrap gave the McCloud entry a lot of confidence. If he defeats Reeves or even holds the San Francisco boy even Wednesday night Pelkey will be "made."

Reeves feels badly about fouling Kramer the other night, but Jack says he simply could not help it. Kramer was dropping his gloves and his elbows in his midsection and Jack had a terrible time reaching the body. The broad-based mark for Reeves to shoot at as Kramer towered above him. Jack says he isn't a very aggressive fighter. "You ought to see what Harry Greb would do to Kramer," said Jack yesterday. "Greb gives the big fellows no rest and they never have time to get set." At that Reeves is the most aggressive fighter of his weight in the four-round ranks.

Eddie Mahoney had better be in shape when he meets Jimmy Duffy as the local boy never was in better form. Against Frankie Farren he demonstrated that he has a large kick in that right hand and he seldom was a punch. Mahoney is training in San Francisco and Manager Dave Symon says his protege is in the well-known "pink."

This Bud Soules lad who meets Al Sange has quite a reputation around Los Angeles. Sange is better right now than he ever was and is not afraid of anything of his weight.

The Eddie Mende-Eddie Macey bout should be a summer. They stopped down south twice Macey winning one and the other being called a draw. They are fast and aggressive.

Local fans are not taking much interest in the Benny Leonard-Lew Tendler affair scheduled for Thursday evening. New Jersey is not of these no decisionless states and the boys are apt to loaf on the job. It isn't every day they can entertain half a million dollars' worth of cash customers.

Western League. DES MOINES, Ia., July 24.—Score: Oklahoma City..... 3 R. H. E. Des Moines..... 4 11 0 Batteries—Payne, Love and Fisher; Lynch and Wilson.

Baseball Men and Fans Are Against Gaming

Judge Landis Has Interest of Players at Heart in His Advice.

NEW YORK, July 24.—Gratifying to club owners and fans alike is the decree against gambling issued to ball players in the major and minor leagues by Judge Landis. The commissioner made it very plain in his recent trip east that those players who insist on making a habit of betting on the races and keeping late hours face not only suspension for several weeks, but expulsion from the game for five years.

While no official announcement was made from baseball headquarters regarding the jurist's warning, it became known from an authoritative source that the commissioner will not tolerate actions of players which might reflect against the national game.

Judge Landis has no objection to players having a "social game" of poker among themselves, providing the limit is kept within reasonable bounds. He is declared against one making an occasional bet on a horse. It was when the commissioner heard that a certain player was making it a habit of betting hundreds and even thousands of dollars on a single race, that he decided to call a halt.

It was not many years ago when it was the custom for some stars of the national game to engage in a "wild party" while on the road. Nothing was said providing the players in question continued to get their base hits with regularity.

But times have changed. Revelry has gone out of style insofar as it mixes with sport. Also competition is so keen that complete use of one's faculties is necessary to give the high standard of play which is now demanded.

It is obvious that Judge Landis in his flat that players' private lives must be beyond reproach. Had in mind recent cases in which other industries have suffered because of an overt act by one of its principals and the resultant odor of publicity. In effect Judge Landis said:

"If a player cannot behave like a gentleman both on or off the field, he has no place in baseball. The prowess or popularity of the player who imperials the good name of the game will not be considered when punishment is meted out. Watch your step or watch out."

Judge Landis was closeted with Babe Ruth recently in regard to the latter's five-year suspension for a run-in with Umpire Dineen in Cleveland. The swatman was told that rowdy tactics would not be tolerated, and that those words had a good effect, as obvious from the Babe's recent behavior.

Ever since he has been back in the game, the Babe has fought shy even of "friendly arguments" with the bright blue uniform. In Washington there were three arguments over close plays at the plate. The Babe didn't even go near them, and was content to lie down in the pasture and "let George do it."

A lot of piffle has been spilled about the Babe going back, how his suspensions have cost the club owners thousands of dollars, etc. However, this is not the case. Babe Ruth's popularity and prowess alone lures through the turnstiles enough cash customers in two weeks to pay his salary.

He gives 'em a thrill when he clouts a homer. He gives 'em a thrill when he strikes out. Going from the sublime to the ridiculous never fails to make a hit, especially in the case of a baseball star.

There are a few so-called slug-gers who have more homers than Ruth so far this year. However, give the old boy time.

WALT HOOVER IS WELCOMED UPON RETURN

DULUTH, Minn., July 24.—(By the Associated Press.)—Hoover buttons have again come into prominence in Duluth but not as reminders to "Hooverize." They carry the caption, "Welcome Home Hoover," for the homecoming next Friday of Walter Hoover of the Duluth Boat Club, who won the world's amateur sculling championship in the English Henley on June 8.

At the homecoming, Duluth will present Hoover with a new home and furniture. The champion will share his honors with his wife and mother. Both women taught school while the boatman trained.

Appreciating that Hoover spent most of his time during the last eighteen months preparing for the world's championship races, Duluth admirers wanted to reimburse him, but feared a gift might endanger his amateur standing as well as that of the Duluth Boat Club. The officers of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen cleared the way by ruling he could accept anything but cash.

The homecoming Friday will have a dual significance for Hoover, for on the day he will be acclaimed hero of the hour he will celebrate his twenty-seventh birthday.

There will be a parade, of course. Merchants and business men in every section of the city are voluntary members of the homecoming committee. The colors of the Duluth Boat Club will be the basis of decoration in the streets and store windows and poster portraits of the sculling champion are everywhere in evidence.

Stanford Tossers Drop Another Game HONOLULU, July 24.—Errors by the Stanford University baseball team enabled Asahi University to win a see-saw game seven to five here yesterday. Teague held the Asahis to five hits, but the latter lunched passes with errors. The score:

Lew Tendler Is Figuring On Knockout

Philadelphia Southpaw Aiming to Spill Benny Leonard.

By DAVID J. WALSH, International News Service Sports Editor. DELANCEY, N. J., July 24.—Strictly as a matter of elementary mathematics can Referee Harry Erle count up to ten? Do not laugh. It is no laughing matter to Lew Tendler, the Philadelphia lightweight, who figures Mr. Erle may have occasion to demonstrate the value of a superior education some time Thursday evening as Benny Leonard, the lightweight champion, reclines upon the ring floor. Lew wants Harry to be in full possession of his kindergarten knowledge.

The question, typical of Tendler's supreme confidence in his ability to knock Leonard silly, came up during a free-for-all discussion of the bout today at the challenger's lay at ease upon a bed in his training quarters. He had just finished a turn on the road and was listening politely to the varied comment.

"Erle is a good referee," it was suggested.

"That's all right," spoke up Tendler. "All I want him to do is to count ten if I give him the chance."

The remark was a tip-off on Tendler's attitude on the big bout. Having every physical asset of a champion, he regards himself with so much quiet confidence that he inspires confidence in others.

You cannot spend a day with him in camp without sensing the fact that he may be the coming lightweight champion.

No one is under estimating Leonard in this neighborhood. If you ask them, they will tell you that Thursday night will see the greatest fight of year. That attitude is the opposite of the one prevailing at Budd Lake, where Leonard daily tells the critics that the bout is a joke.

Tendler is not disturbed by reports from Leonard's camp that the fighter, because he fights right hand and foot extended, will be a mark for a right cross.

"How about Leonard's claim that you will have to carry your left hand to protect your jaw as soon as you drop it to shoot a punch, he'll cross with his right?" I asked.

"Benny is very foolish," was the reply. "He ought to know that I won't have to carry my left hand any higher than he will. I can hit as fast as he."

GOLF FACTS worth knowing

By INNIS BROWN

Q. Is it ever permissible to clean mud off of a ball on the putting green?
A. Cleaning a ball is forbidden by U. S. G. A. rules except in cases where the committee in charge of a tournament authorizes it as a local rule. Of course a club has the right to establish such a rule for special occasions if it sees fit. W. G. A. rules permit such cleaning. The Canadian rule is the same as the U. S. G. A. rule.

Q. I have read quite a lot about the power and strength of Walter Hagen, although it is very impressive that he is of medium size and weight. Please state his height and appearance, weight. Also his age.

A. Hagen is barely five feet eleven inches in height and weighs approximately 180 pounds. He is twenty-nine years of age. His intimate associates say he is exceptionally strong and agile.

Q. In a recent match my ball rolled into a deep sand trap and stopped on a step of a stairway for entering and leaving the trap. This stairway was securely staked down. What is to be done in a case of that kind?

A. Under conditions named, you were entitled to lift the ball and drop it in the hazard a club length from the stairway without penalty.

Q. Is it permissible in the case of a short putt to address the ball with the club immediately back of the ball and shove it?
A. No. The ball must be struck, not pushed.

Q. If a player plays out of turn in a single match, that is, when his opponent was further away from the hole than he was, can he recall the stroke?
A. No, the opponent may recall it, but the player himself cannot.

If any golf rules puzzle you, write Innis Brown, care of our Sporting Editor, enclosing stamp, return envelope.

"Benny is very foolish," was the reply. "He ought to know that I won't have to carry my left hand any higher than he will. I can hit as fast as he."

Giants Again At the Top of National Race

N. Y. Beats Cincinnati, As Cardinals Lose to the Braves.

CHICAGO, July 24.—After losing the lead to the St. Louis Cardinals for a day, the Giants were back on top in the National League again today by a margin of three points in the percentage column, although the St. Louis aggregation was a half game ahead in the won and lost column.

Bill Ryan twirled his second victory of the series and gave the Giants the odd game out of five with Cincinnati, 4 to 1. St. Louis lost to Boston by the same score after taking four straight from the Braves, closing a home stand in which Rickie's men won seventeen and lost six. Tomorrow the two pennant rivals begin a series at the polo grounds.

In the American League, St. Louis out-batted Detroit but seven errors, including three by the usually brilliant Siler, cost the Browns an 11 to 6 defeat. Their league lead was cut to a game and a half as the New York Yanks had the best of a comedy of hits and errors with Boston, 11 to 7. Ruth and Fessell went hitless but the rest of the New Yorkers were in a clotting mood.

The Yankees, on their way west to open a series tomorrow at St. Louis, are strengthened for the invasion by the acquisition of Third Baseman Joe Dugan and Outfielder Elmer Smith from Boston in exchange for Outfielder Elmer Miller, Infielders Fawcett and Mitchell, and a pitcher to be named later.

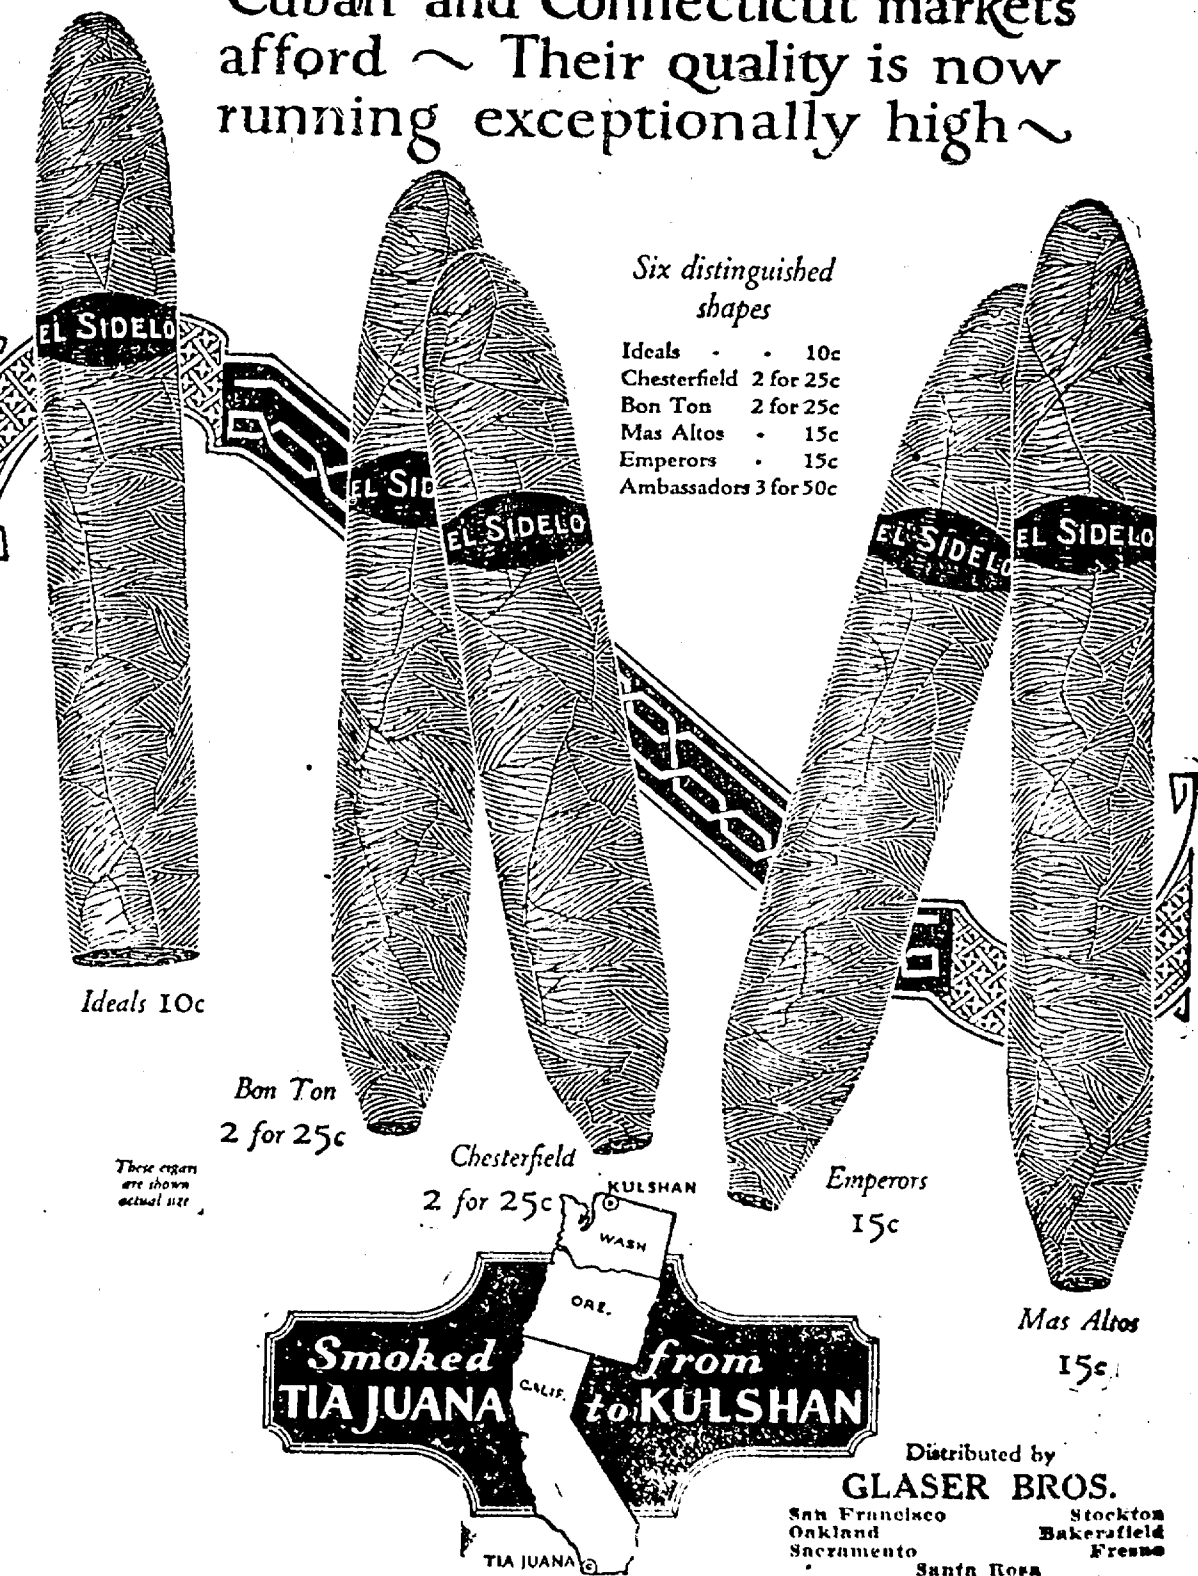

Eight put-outs by Harry Hooper and a total of 15 in the outfield marked Chicago's 10-6 victory over Cleveland, the second straight reverse for the Indians after they had won twelve in a row.

Washington pounded three Philadelphia pitchers and won, 11 to 2. Vic Aldridge, former Coast League, further endeared himself to Cub fans when he pitched a five hit victory for the Chicago Nationals over Brooklyn. The score was 4 to 1. Ray Grimes, hard-hitting Cub first sacker, rapped his ninth home run over the right field wall.

In the American League, three of the winning clubs ran up eleven homers each, but the fourth barely fell short with ten.

FAILURE WAS CERTAIN.

No more than was expected took place at The Hague conference. Nothing but a reversal of Soviet policies, a sudden decision to honor obligations, could have made any agreement possible. It was because none of the nations represented for one moment entertained the hope that Russia would do anything but persist in the attempt to formulate an easy doctrine that debts should not be paid the sessions became stolid and mechanical. The delegates waited for the fiasco and adjourned.

The big problems which have been broached or passed by at Genoa and The Hague will have to be settled sooner or later. Stabilization of currency, production, transportation, rehabilitation of industry, demand a united consideration. The question as to whether or not Bolshevism must end before Russia may be aided has not been faced.

In the meantime no good may be accomplished in the holding of an economic conference when one of the parties most concerned holds boastfully to a proposition which violates all laws of economics. It is not possible to consider financial aid to a country which maintains its obligations need not be met.

The decision of President Harding not to participate in The Hague conference has been proved a wise one.

BRIDGE BRINGS PROBLEM.

Proposal to bridge Carquinez Straits has brought forth constructive arguments from the communities most concerned. In general way, there is an agreement that such a bridge would shorten the transportation haul by truck and, as a convenience, would prove worth a large investment.

Stockton and Antioch have called attention to an objection which, it would appear, should be met satisfactorily and at once. They point out that the plans, as outlined, do not allow for the passage of larger ships under the spans and that programs for the development of navigation on the San Joaquin and Sacramento rivers are being endangered.

In the face of the fact Stockton is working for a deeper channel to the wharves of that city and already possesses an inland harbor for deep sea commerce, that Antioch is similarly situated and nearer to the bay, and that Sacramento is considering a survey to determine the feasibility of a thirty-five mile channel which will bring the larger craft once more to the capital, these arguments are worthy of attention. The Antioch alternative is a drawbridge at Sherman Island. It is probable a draw could be provided at Carquinez.

Wherever the bridge is placed it should not be allowed to interfere with river traffic, for the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers flow out of a region capable of furnishing produce to feed half of the country.

SAFEGUARD NEEDED.

A recent accident has brought an attention to the need of new safeguards with the development of the automobile stage. The time was when these stages carried no more than a half dozen passengers each, when their weight and momentum was not so tremendous and when the task of driving them entailed much less of responsibility.

Within a week the demand for some relief to a stricken driver, an assistant in the car, or facilities for substitution en route, has been made. Few can blame the chauffeur of the stage which ran off the bank at San Ardo. He was ill and a sick man is no judge of his abilities to continue at work. This driver, it is reported, stopped his car and walked around it to shake off periods of weakness and drowsiness. He had to decide whether he should leave his passengers stranded on the highway, or go on. The accident followed the latter decision.

In the cab of a locomotive one of the most important responsibilities of the fireman is to be in readiness to take the throttle. He is a constant guaranty of safety because he may take the engineer's place. Automobile stages are now as large, almost, as railroad coaches. They should be manned by more than one man who can drive.

HERRICK'S CLAIMS.

Mannuel Herrick, Congressman from the Eighth District of Oklahoma, is running for re-election on what might be called the most "rambunctious" platform in politics. With his record of self-applause and other things in mind it was to be expected his claims for recognition would not be marked for modesty and accepted forms of logic.

Herrick is the Congressman who conducted a beauty contest in Washington until it was stopped. His methods of seeking a helpmate and his descriptions of himself as a desirable object for wide affection have furnished the country cause for amusement and wonder. Then there was the speech Farmer Herrick delivered on a cow and the interviews he gave out declaring himself the target of mysterious conspirators.

The Oklahoma man declares he is the only farmer in Congress, the rest being "minions of the organized plunderbund." That this "plunderbund" has been kept in a constant state of terror by the defiant attitude of none other than Herrick, he admits. Unless he returns to Washington plunderbunding will be generally indulged in by all of the minions and there will be no man on the floor of Congress to call a halt.

"Down with the plunderbund," says Herrick and, what is more, Herrick is a man who cannot be killed by an airplane or a cyclone. This would seem to be an important requisite for office and something new. For years the country has been electing men who are not cyclone and airplane proof, but Herrick, the man who "cannot be bluffed, bulldozed, bribed, or intimidated" is the first to point out the error. Some day he may go so far as to reveal the secret of his immunity.

Herrick has other claims. He says he secured fifty-nine pensions for his constituents and would have secured more had not the plunderbunders started in to plunder and bund. He is also "the best representative the people of the Eighth District ever had."

The claims, which are set forth by Herrick or someone who represents him, include one which must appeal. The Oklahoma man is not a man to shirk on the job. He arises each morning at 7 and goes to work for the people until 10 when he rushes into committee room to face the minions, and, possibly, cyclones and airplanes. Without stopping for lunch he transfers his energies to the house where he "holds his own in debate" and puts in a few good ticks at striking terror to the plunderbund. Back to the office, he does not quit work until midnight. If anyone does not believe this, he may visit Washington and see the defier of cyclones, airplanes and minions go through his program.

If the Eighth District in Oklahoma can afford to elect Herrick to Congress the rest of the country should not complain.

An idea of the magnitude of the apricot industry in California is given in a recent circular from the Experiment Station of the University of California. In 1920 there were 3,339,716 bearing and 1,325,300 non-bearing trees in the state. Counting seventy-five trees to the acre this would amount to 62,200 acres. Actual cash returns to the growers in 1919 was $14,000,000 and in 1920, when the crop was 60,000 tons lighter, $9,775,000. The average price was $80 a ton in 1919 and $85 a ton in 1920. No state but California produces apricots commercially in sufficiently large quantities to affect prices in the principal markets of the country. Of the apricot counties in the state, Santa Clara, ranks first, Riverside and Ventura, second and third, and Sonoma and Alameda fourth and fifth.

RETURN OF THE SACK COAT.

According to the Tugendloech, who speaks for the American Designers' Association, men's clothes are to be looser and more practical. As one reporter puts it, jazz clothes are discarded. No more tight waist lines, no more pinch trousers, straight jacket cut is to give way to the sack coat. Carlyle's vision of a "house of Lords sitting under a cloud of smoke" is to be replaced by a more modern and more safe and sane to the liberty loving male. The old-time sack coat and loose, even baggy, trousers would win in a walk if a referendum were taken.

NOTES and COMMENT

This is the welcome that the Medford Mail-Tribune extends to a political evangelist. "The main agitator of the Non-Partisan League is coming to Oregon to make some speeches. Every time a fool idea gets in poor health, they bring it to Oregon to recuperate."

This is from the Washington Post: "Ignace Jan Paderewski, who deserted the concert stage in 1917 to take a hand in world politics, finally becoming premier of Poland, will return to the piano next fall, touring the United States and Canada. This announcement was made today when the pianist sailed on the steamship La Savoie to rest in his chalet on the shores of Lake Geneva. Mr. Paderewski, who arrived from California this week, will return to this country in October."

The Brooklyn Eagle on the strings of the lyre: "Are there no cats in heaven, mamma?" "No." "Then where do they get their harp strings?" The poisoning of forty Toms and Tabbies in a single night at Gloucester, N. J., recalls the child's question by association of ideas. "Twins a fellow who hates noise and has no heavenly ideas who did the trick down there."

The Kansas City Star says this, and it's so: "An eastern penologist says he hopes to see the day 'when the word jail will have disappeared from our language.' It has already, hasn't it? We hear of hoosgood, quod, in again, jug, bustle and so on every few days, but how long since we heard a man was in jail?"

The Oregonian indulges in a creepy supposition: "The death of a conductor by heart disease while on duty leads to one horrifying thought. Suppose a motorman, stricken while approaching an open draw. But motormen are healthy boys. They have to be."

The Boston Transcript sums up the situation: "With a million Americans wasting money in strikes and a host of other Americans broadcasting money in Europe, it looks as if those of us who are sticking to the job would be lucky if we got our 'three squares' a day."

Washington Post: "A California husband on his deathbed bequeathed his wife to 'the other man,' which answers the question, 'O death, where is thy sting?'"

This from the Chicago News appears to be about as far as it cares to go in that direction: "We may never know what were the funny stories that King George told Judge Taft. But we may be sure that there was none beginning, 'There was an Irishman named Pat.'"

Chicago News: "Astronomers at Flagstaff saw a brilliantly lighted area on Mars of 300,000 square miles. If Mars is not inhabited why the torchlight procession?"

Says the New York Herald: "That John Black of California, who at the half way point in the golf tournament at Skokie stood at the top of the list, is 54 and a grandfather, and therefore has not been considered by the analysts of the game as a contender, is forgivable; but he has not the accepted physical build of a good golfer but succeeds in driving 300 yards from the tee might be overlooked; but that he doesn't dress the part of a champion is one thing that a good many slicers and hookers will never consent to look upon as sportsmanlike."

Portland Oregonian: "Frank W. Hudson of Oakland, Cal., who has been making a tour of the coast by automobile and passed through Portland on his way north, is back in the city for a few days. He will take with him when he leaves a very good looking desk ornament at the Oregon hotel. The ornament is a large silver loving cup won by Mr. Hudson on the merit of his being the first tourist from the outside to reach the rim of Crater lake this year. Mr. Hudson made the trip at considerable hazard and is justly proud of the prize."

THE CARVING KNIFE.

When I was but a little lad, my father carved what meat we had.
With grace and skill he'd cut and slice the roast of beef or veal.
With dexterous hand he'd wield the blade, no frise or awkward move he made.
And deftly he could whet the knife upon his shining steel.
But now and then I'd hear him say: "Who's used my carving knife today?"
What woman's used this blade of mine for cutting wire or tin?
And on this special point he'd harp: "A carving aw'pon must be sharp.
Or one can never cut a roast and have the slices thin."

"That knife must not be used on string, or bread or boards or anything, Hands off my carving blade," he'd cry, and yet I grieve to say,
In spite of all his warnings grim,
He'd let the women p' I no heed to him.
They used his sacred carving knife a dozen times a day.

They'd use that knife for cutting soap, old carpets, leather belts and rove,
They'd use it, too, for pulling tacks and leave it dulled and nicked,
And every time a meal began, my father was an angry man,
But when was every oath he swore, and every kick he kicked.

Now like my good old dad I stand, and take the carving knife in hand
And run my thumb along its edge and find it dulled and nicked,
And like my good old dad I vow, some day there'll be a healthy row.
But I'm as unsuccessful as my father when he kicked.
The maid, the youngsters and the wife, still take that sacred carving knife
And use it as a handy tool on wood or lead or stone.

In spite of all I do or say, the blade is dulled from day to day,
I cannot get the women folks to leave that knife alone.

STYLES IN ANCIENT CRETE.

The frescoes on the palace walls at Knossos, many of which are beautifully preserved, fully bear out our high estimate of the ancient Cretans. The women have low-necked bodices and richly flounced skirts reaching to the ground; and both men and women seem to have worn something in the nature of corsets. At all events the wasp-waist is the ordinary type. "Why, they are Parisians," a Frenchman exclaimed in astonishment when he saw these pictures, which, were, he was told, at least 3500 years old.—J. McCabe in "The Evolution of Civilization."

About YOUR HEALTH

Why Time's the Best Remedy For a "Railway Brain" Case

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D., Commissioner of Health, New York City.

It sometimes happens, following a railroad accident or other serious injury, that certain nervous symptoms develop and continue long after the bodily wounds have healed. An accident of this sort causes serious jar to the brain and spinal cord. This in turn produces congestion and even inflammation of the delicate coverings of the brain and cord.

One cannot experience the shock of a serious railroad accident without mental distress. Uncomfortable nervous symptoms may follow.

The nervousness may not develop at once. It may be postponed for several days and then come on with a rush.

The condition I am describing is called by several names—"railway spine," "railway brain," "traumatic neurosis" and "traumatic hysteria."

There are several types of trouble, each due to the same cause. The first one is like the ordinary case of "nervous prostration" or neurasthenia. There are the familiar symptoms of sleeplessness, restlessness, fatigue, headache and lack of the ability to concentrate in thought. The victim finds it impossible to work. He simply cannot keep his mind on his duties.

You can't get a smile out of this patient. He is sad and down-hearted, and sure that everything has gone to the dogs. No matter how light-hearted and cheerful he was before, he becomes a despondent and discouraged individual.

There may be some pain, possibly in the back. The nerves may tingle and complaint may be made of numbness here and there.

In other cases there may be dizziness and trembling of the body. The eyes may give a lot of trouble. There may be complete loss of sensation in limited areas of the body. Fortunately, the symptoms are not likely to be permanent. Unless there is serious organic disease of the brain or cord, recovery is complete.

Many of these cases are found among persons who are suing the railways for damages. They are most puzzling to the doctor. Even though the injured person is a perfectly honest individual, it is difficult for him to separate the real symptoms from the imaginary ones. Sometimes they disappear speedily after the court has rendered a favorable verdict.

At these cases are puzzling and require judgment and shrewdness on the part of the doctor. In the treatment of "railway brain" patience is a virtue. It takes a long time to get results, and patient and family are apt to become discouraged.

There are a lot of things to try, and a few to carry out in detail. The chief thing is to keep the patient quiet and happy. Rest, simple food, lots of sleep and all of the hygienic rules must be observed. Massage, baths and possibly electricity may help in the cure.

Good judgment must be used in the selection of medicine. Narcotic drug or other agents intended to induce sleep should be avoided. Other measures must be used to bring sleep or drug addiction will be added to the miseries of this trouble.

Change of scene, out-of-door life—fishing, hunting or golf—should be encouraged. Time will heal and the symptoms will disappear gradually.

THOSE WORST CHEATED.
Most of those now amassing money in the liquor traffic are purveyors of poison, varying in deadliness from the lethal wood alcohol decoctions that slay suddenly, to raw whiskey that kills by the slower processes of injured stomach, nerves and kidneys.

The cost of imitations of chemistry show that 98 per cent of the liquor now being sold is unfit to drink. That verdict is the result of analysis of captured liquor. Not more than 2 per cent could even qualify as "fair" whiskey. Those who patronize the bootlegger have two chances in one hundred of getting what they think they are paying for.

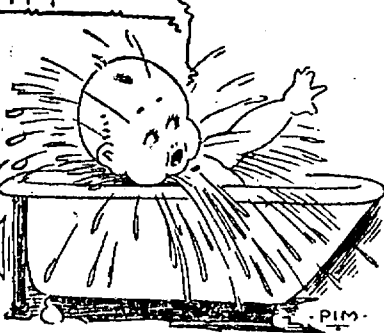

Those who hold their personal liberty above their personal health may continue to mark a mark for such contraband, but it may reduce the patronage if prospective purchasers come to realize they are being cheated by something more than high prices.

It may help if those who think they are smart learn that they are fools. The satisfaction of cheating and defying the government may be reduced when they learn that they are the ones who are cheated.—Oklahoma City Times.

POLICEMAN FACES DISMISSAL AFTER ARREST IN ROW

Robert M. Ogan, a probation officer in the Oakland Police Department, arrested in Hayward yesterday, has been suspended from the department by Chief of Police James T. Drew.

Drew announced today that he would recommend to Frank Colbourn, commissioner of public health and safety, that Ogan be dismissed.

Ogan was in an automobile yesterday which was driven by Mrs. Leona Bay of the Oakland House. Other occupants of the car were Mrs. Anna Leaper, 737 East Twelfth street, and Ralph Van Dolan, a sailor, stationed at Mare Island.

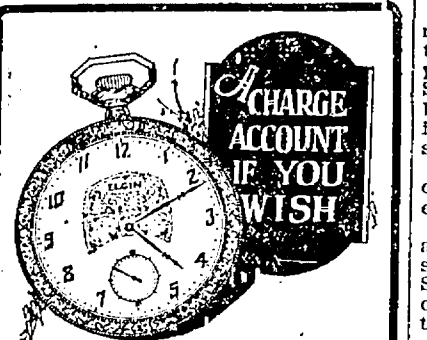

According to the report which Chief Drew received from Marshal Charles Schilling all the members of the car had been drinking. When the car came across the street between B and A streets, he told them that they would have to get someone else to drive the car or he would place them under arrest.

An argument then started between the Oakland policeman and the marshal and the Oakland officer was arrested. He was held for investigation. Chief Drew was notified. He went to Hayward and personally conducted the investigation. No charge was placed against Ogan by Schilling. Following Drew's investigation he was released by the marshal.

Legion in Oakland Selects Delegates

Oakland Post, No. 5, American Legion, has named a number of delegates to the state convention of the Legion, to be held in San Jose September 6, 7 and 8. Final election of delegates will be held on August 15. The vacancy created on the executive committee by the resignation of Richard Lyman Jr. will also be filled from the following nominees: P. Gonzales, S. F. Jackson, G. F. Cruz, H. L. Roderick and C. H. Stoll.

Those nominated for delegates to the state convention are: E. C. Colridge, M. M. Friedman, Fred W. Peterson, R. M. Lyman Jr., Irv Hasselberg, J. Edwards, H. A. Nelson, C. Stanley Wood, P. B. ## The Case of Your Watch

"Once the movement and the case of a watch were considered as a single unit and to secure an accurate time-keeper it was necessary to take the case that went with it." Now, with the development of the art of making watch cases it is possible to secure movement and case separately—selecting the latter to suit your own taste from a large number of beautiful designs.

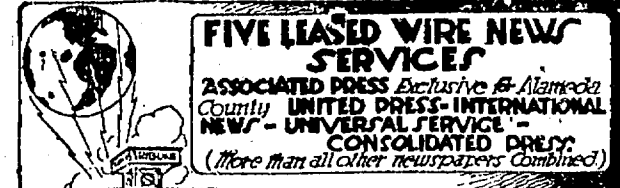

At our store we specialize on the standard Elgin and Waltham movements and carry them in all the newest, most beautiful cases, for example:

CITY OPENS WAY TO NEW ATHENS CLUB

Council Orders Suit to Force Construction of $50,000 Depot Dropped Rather Than Block Structure

Rather than interfere with negotiations between the Athens Athletic club and the Southern Pacific concerning the great proposed building at Fourteenth and Franklin streets, the city council this morning sidetracked its suit to compel the Southern Pacific to build the $50,000 improved depot there.

The council authorized City Attorney Leon E. Gray to withdraw the suit, which was to have been argued before the California Supreme Court July 27, but stipulated that the suit could be renewed at any time on 20 days' notice. The S. P. agrees to this.

The action was taken at the suggestion of the Athens Athletic club and referred to the council with the endorsement of counsel for the Southern Pacific. B. J. Foulds of the railroad, said:

"As everything seems to promise the fulfillment of the plans for the Athens Athletic club building, I assume it would be unwise for us to press the case before the supreme court, involving the validity of the order of the railroad commission, proceeding, a depot building on the premises."

NEGOTIATIONS TOLD. Representatives of the Athens club notified the council that negotiations have now proceeded between the club and the railroad to the following points:

An appraisal of the land by the Real Estate Board; option from the Southern Pacific; an agreement to use the new depot building, writing concern to finance the proposed building, and application for more than 60 per cent of the rentable space.

Final agreements in all these matters, it is asserted, are now on the way.

The city council adopted another keynote policy by passing a resolution which pledges the council to use Alameda county products in all cases in the future, provided that the materials or products are as good as those produced in other places.

The resolution was introduced by Commissioner W. J. Eacuss at the suggestion of the Merchants' Exchange, and says:

"Resolved, that in all purchases of supplies, equipment, material and other personal property wherever possible, an Alameda county product be the measure of quality and be the material supplied, provided that the price, quality and fitness of that product be equal to that produced elsewhere."

PRIMARIES ARRANGED. All necessary resolutions and ordinances were adopted as the preliminary to the primary election of August 29. These included legislation permitting the choosing of election officers, the renting of tents, and the purchase of stationery.

The memorial built by the Merchants' Exchange for the entrance to the inter-county tunnel on the tunnel road was accepted by the council today and turned over to the park department. The memorial is a light-post.

The city planning commission recommended that the city grant the Chevrolet Motors Company permission to close a portion of Seventy-second avenue for the building of a factory for auto bodies. The matter was referred to the street department.

Several street improvements were ordered to be planned by the city engineer. Among them were: Hillsborough street; Harmon avenue from Fifty-fifth to Fifty-seventh; Thirty-ninth avenue, from Suite to Redding, and Seventy-second avenue, from East Fourteenth to Orval.

The sum of $25,000 was appropriated toward the extension of Skyline boulevard to $50,000 for 20-inch pipe for the waterfront.

EASTBAY ACTIVE ARRANGING FOR FIRE CHIEF'S VISIT

Plans for the entertainment of delegates to the convention of the International Fire Chiefs' Association, who will be the guests of Oakland August 17, are being made today. The convention will open in San Francisco on August 15 and continue until the 19th.

A special committee headed by Fire Chief Sam Short of the local department is making ready for the entertainment of the visiting fire chiefs and will greet them when they step from the train to participate in the "Oakland Day" of the convention.

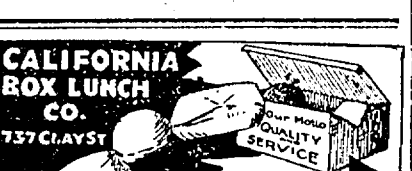

It is estimated that the convention will bring more than a thousand people to Oakland. The United States, Canada, Europe, South America and Asia will be represented at the gathering. A program has been adopted for the day in order to show the visitors the beauties of the continental side of the bay, and a fund is being raised to provide necessary transportation and entertainment, including a basket lunch at Flora park and a dinner at night at the Hotel Oakland.

A portion of the fund is being raised through the cooperation of the management of the Century theater, who will devote the proceeds of one day's entertainment to the fund.

Ferry Concern Fails To Win Bond Permit

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—The railroad commission in a decision announced today refused the request of the Alameda County Richmond Ferry company to modify its financing plans for requiring two ferry boats, wharves, slips and other facilities. The company desired to issue $250,000 of its common stock instead of $300,000, as previously authorized, and in addition wanted to be permitted to create serial equipment trust certificates and to issue 7 per cent trust notes, or to create a bond issue to pay for the two steel ferry boats to cost approximately $300,000.

The company represented that a shipbuilding concern is willing to undertake the construction of the boats and upon their completion the ferry company proposed to sell the equipment trust certificates. The commission held that not until the company had sold enough stock to cover the cost of acquiring and constructing terminal facilities and to build at least one boat, will further consideration be given to the issue and sale of equipment trust certificates or bonds by the applicants.

VICE-PRESIDENT COOLIDGE COMING SOON TO OAKLAND

Vice-president Calvin Coolidge will come to Oakland next month, where he will visit a relative and address the national convention of the American Bar Association in San Francisco. He will leave Washington on the morning of August 4. The name of the relative whom the vice-president will visit was not given.

Coolidge will speak before the Bar Association on August 10, leaving soon after for Oregon and Washington. He will probably speak in Seattle, according to Guy E. Kelly, Republican national committeeman.

During the meeting of the National Bar Association in San Francisco all courts in the state will be closed, from August 7 to 12. Two members of the Superior court of Alameda county, however, will remain on duty mornings to handle necessary matters, such as injunctions, habeas corpus proceedings and committing the insane. No trials will be held during that time.

Condemnation Suit For Boden Way Filed

Suit in condemnation involving property near the lakeshore was filed in the Superior Court today on behalf of the city of Oakland against a number of property owners.

The property in question is wanted for widening Boden way between Prospect avenue and Beacon street. W. Parker, A. B. Manning, Miss W. M. Givener, Central National Bank and the Central Savings Bank were named as defendants in the action. City Attorney Leon A. Gray represents the city in the proceeding.

til the company had sold enough stock to cover the cost of acquiring and constructing terminal facilities and to build at least one boat, will further consideration be given to the issue and sale of equipment trust certificates or bonds by the applicants.

CITY READY TO WELCOME ADVERTISERS

Eastbay Entertainment of Railway Visitors Is Arranged; Party to Tour District as Part of State Trip

Plans are being completed for the entertainment of the nation's railroad advertising men who will be in this city Wednesday afternoon as guests of the Chamber of Commerce.

The party, which will number near 50, will be publicly received at the foot of Broadway when the government boat on which they will cross the bay docks at 3 o'clock. City and Chamber of Commerce officials will join in making the visitors welcome.

The tentative program provides for a tour of the Eastbay cities by automobile and a short reception at the Hotel Oakland just prior to the departure of the guests for San Francisco.

The entertainment committee of the Chamber of Commerce, consisting of Postmaster J. J. Rosborough, chairman; Mel Anderson, Ernest Tanner, William I. Macdonald and George E. Mellon, are arranging the details.

"These advertising men, many of whom are accompanied by their wives, are making a ten-day tour of Northern California. They arrived in the state on the 18th and will leave Del Monte for their homes on Friday of this week. Since their arrival, they have visited Truckee, Lake Tahoe, the Hetch Hetchy Valley and Yosemite Valley. They left the Yosemite for the bay region today, and will arrive in San Francisco some time this evening."

The party is made up as follows: Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Abbott, Poole Brothers, railway printers, Chicago, Ill.; C. D. Wheeler, Northern Pacific railroad, St. Paul, Minn.; H. F. Charging that the railroad company illegally collected dockage tolls on two wharves, which were not private, the city today filed suit against the Southern Pacific company, for $54,142.57.

The suit was filed by City Attorney Leon Gray. The two wharves mentioned in the complaint are Long wharf and the New Southern Pacific wharf.

The complaint alleges that

The monthly whist party of the Piedmont Parlor, No. 87, N. D. G. W., will be held Thursday evening in Corinthian hall, Pacific building, Sixteenth and Jefferson streets. The parlor is organizing a drill team of thirty young ladies who will make their initial appearance in San Jose on the 9th of September. Admission day. The committee in charge of the whist consists of the following: Augusta Huxol, chairman; Josephine Clark, Mary McDonald, Margaret Cantl, Ramona Ring, Betty Meinert, May Ward, Gertrude Morrison, Alice Berthoud, Rowena Colstad and Nell Reedy.

at Long wharf the company illegally collected $33,274.26 in tolls from February, 1917, to February, 1919, and at the new Southern Pacific wharf $20,868.31, from February 1, 1919, to July 1, 1922.

According to the ordinance passed by the city council in January, 1917, dockage tolls can not be collected except at private wharves, the city contends that the docks mentioned in the complaint were leases and therefore not private.

The White Man Who Stayed

In a small town in the southern part of Kentucky no negroes are allowed. The place is exclusively white, and the whites intend that it shall be kept so. No colored man lives there and no colored man is permitted to tarry there.

There are numerous places like this in the south. Some years ago the L. & N. Railroad decided to extend a branch line to this all-white community. Construction work was to be started at the edge of the town. An Eastern contracting firm got the job. As agent for the contractors a New England man was sent to Kentucky to round up laborers for the job. The nearest sizeable town was Bowling Green. The Easterner put an ad in the Bowling Green paper for a crew of laborers. A large number of negroes answered the advertisement in person. The wages he offered were entirely satisfactory, but when he told them where they were to start operations a spokesman for the gang informed him that no colored persons were permitted to linger in that immediate vicinity. The Northerner swelled with anger.

"Is that so?" he shouted. "Well, let me tell you something: While you are working for me you're going to work right where I put you and nobody is going to interfere with you. No matter what happens, you can count on me—I'll stay with you!"

Assured by this pledge, the force signed on. After he had returned to Bowling Green on the afternoon of the following day and had caught up with his breathing, one of his late employees was overheard telling an interested audience of members of his own race what had happened:

"Yas, we got there early this mawnin' and we commenced unloadin' our shovels and picks and wheel barrows and sich-like which we'd brung 'long with us in a couple of waggins. Befo' we got through doin' this a white man come moseyin' up to us an' he says, just as milk-like: 'Who's in charge of dis yere party?' We p'inted out de boss to him an' he walked up to de boss an' us boys drawed clos't to hear what wuz said. 'Mister,' said the town man to de Boss, 'don't you know we don't low no niggers to live or wuk in dis town?' Well, suzz, you jest ought a-seen dat boss of ours. He turned on dat man like a lion an' he sez to him, 'These men is wukkin' fur me an' they is goin' to wuk here.' 'Oh, is dat so?' sez de town feller and he walks away jest ez quiet ez kin be. An' den our boss he turns to us an' he sez 'Remember, men, what I tole you yistiddy, I's wid you an' I'm gwine stay wid you'."

"In a lil' wile we sees a bunch of men comin' an' they's all got rifles. An' then we sees some half-grown boys an' they's all got pistols. An' den, bless Gawd, here comes some women, too, an' they's carryin' shot-guns. De whole bunch forms a line facin' us an' this yere same wite man w'ich had done de talkin' befo', he walks up an' he sez to us: 'Boys, you knowed good an' well, w'en you come down yere dat us wite folks didn't low no niggers to wuk in dis town an' yit you hit it. Now you hit de pike back fur Bowlin' Green an' you hit it mighty prompt.' Wit dat he th'owed his gun up in de air and fired a shot over our haidz an' we sho' did hit dat pike."

The speaker paused then as though his story were finished. "But look a-here Bud," said one of his listeners, "What about dat Yankee wite man who said he wuz gwine stay wid you?"

"He kep his word. He stayed wid us all de way back to Bowlin' Green."

Uncle Wiggily Stories by HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE BABY FISH.

ONCE upon a time there was a baby fish who lived in a babbling brook which flowed through a green meadow. He was a cute little fish, but very small, and some of the larger fish in the brook often laughed at the tiny chap.

"Oh, ho!" cried the big fish. "You are so small you never will be of any use in this world."

"You were little bits of things yourselves at one time," gasped the baby fish, with a flip of his tail. "Just you wait until I grow and I'll show you what I can do."

But the little fish grew very slowly and when he wanted to swim off up stream with the older fish they drove him back to the quiet pool where the epicly green watercress grew, saying: "You can't come with us until you are larger."

This caused the little fish to be mad, and as he swam around and around in the watercress pool he said to himself:

"I don't care! I'm going off by myself and have an adventure. If they don't want me to come with them up the brook, I'll go out on the land and see what happens!"

Now this was not wise for the little fish to do, for he was made to live in water and not out on land. However, he gave a big flap of his tail, and almost before he knew it, he had sprung out of the brook and found himself flapping on the meadow grass.

"Oh, dear!" cried the baby fish, for soon he found he could not breathe the air on land. There was too much of it for him. He needed to take his air slowly through his gills from the water of the brook. "Oh, dear!" gasped the baby fish. "I guess I made a mistake coming out on land! I wish I was back in the water!"

But, though he flipped and flopped, he could not get back into the cool brook, and he was almost dead when he hopped to Uncle Wiggily. Longears, the bunny rabbit gentleman.

"Hum! I wonder what that is flapping in the grass?" said the bunny to himself, as he twinkled his pink nose while walking across the meadow. "Perhaps the Woozie Wolf or the Puzzy Fox is hiding in the tall grass to catch me as I hop past. I must be careful!"

And then the gasping voice of the baby fish cried:

"Oh, will some one please help me to get back into the brook?"

Uncle Wiggily knew he was in no danger and the bunny said:

"I'll help you, baby fish!" With his paw Uncle Wiggily gently lifted the little fish back into the watercress pool, and the tiny chap soon felt better.

"Uncle Wiggily," spoke the baby fish, lifting his head a little way out of the water, "you did me a great favor, and I have learned a good lesson. Some day I hope I may do you a favor."

"Oh, don't worry about that!" laughed the bunny gentleman. "Away hopped Uncle Wiggily, over hill and dale, seeking adventures. And he found one almost before he was ready for it, when the bad Bob Cat sprang down out of a tree and chased him."

"I want ears to nibble! I want ears to nibble!" howled the bad Bob Cat.

"You can't have mine! You can't have mine!" cried Uncle Wiggily, as he turned and hopped away.

Faster and faster hopped the bunny rabbit gentleman, but the bad Bob Cat came on twice as fast, and he was almost reaching Uncle Wiggily with his claws when the bunny turned into the meadow, through which ran the bubbling brook.

"Oh, how hot and tired I am!" sighed Uncle Wiggily. "Oh, if only I can get across the brook perhaps I shall be safe."

He reached the stream of water, gave a jump and landed safely on the other side. But the bunny's legs were so tired that he slipped and fell down, and could hardly get up again.

"Oh, how hot and tired I am!" cried poor Uncle Wiggily.

"That! Then this is my chance to do you a favor," said a voice, and the baby fish poked his head up from the brook. "Lie there quietly, Uncle Wiggily," spoke the baby fish, "and I will splash cooling water on you with my tail!"

The baby fish did this, and soon Uncle Wiggily felt much better.

"Now I must hurry on again," said the bunny, "for he will soon be here after me!"

"Who?" asked the baby fish.

"The Bob Cat," answered the bunny. "I managed to get ahead of him as I leaped the brook. But see! There he comes now!"

And, surely enough, on came the Bob Cat, howling:

"I want ears! I want ears!"

"That! I'll splash you, too, but in a different way!" said the baby fish. Then, as the Bob Cat leaped the brook the little fish, with his tail, splashed a lot of water in the eyes of the bad chap.

"Oh, I can't see, I can't see!" howled the Bob Cat. "My eyes are full of water and I can't see where you are, Uncle Wiggily!"

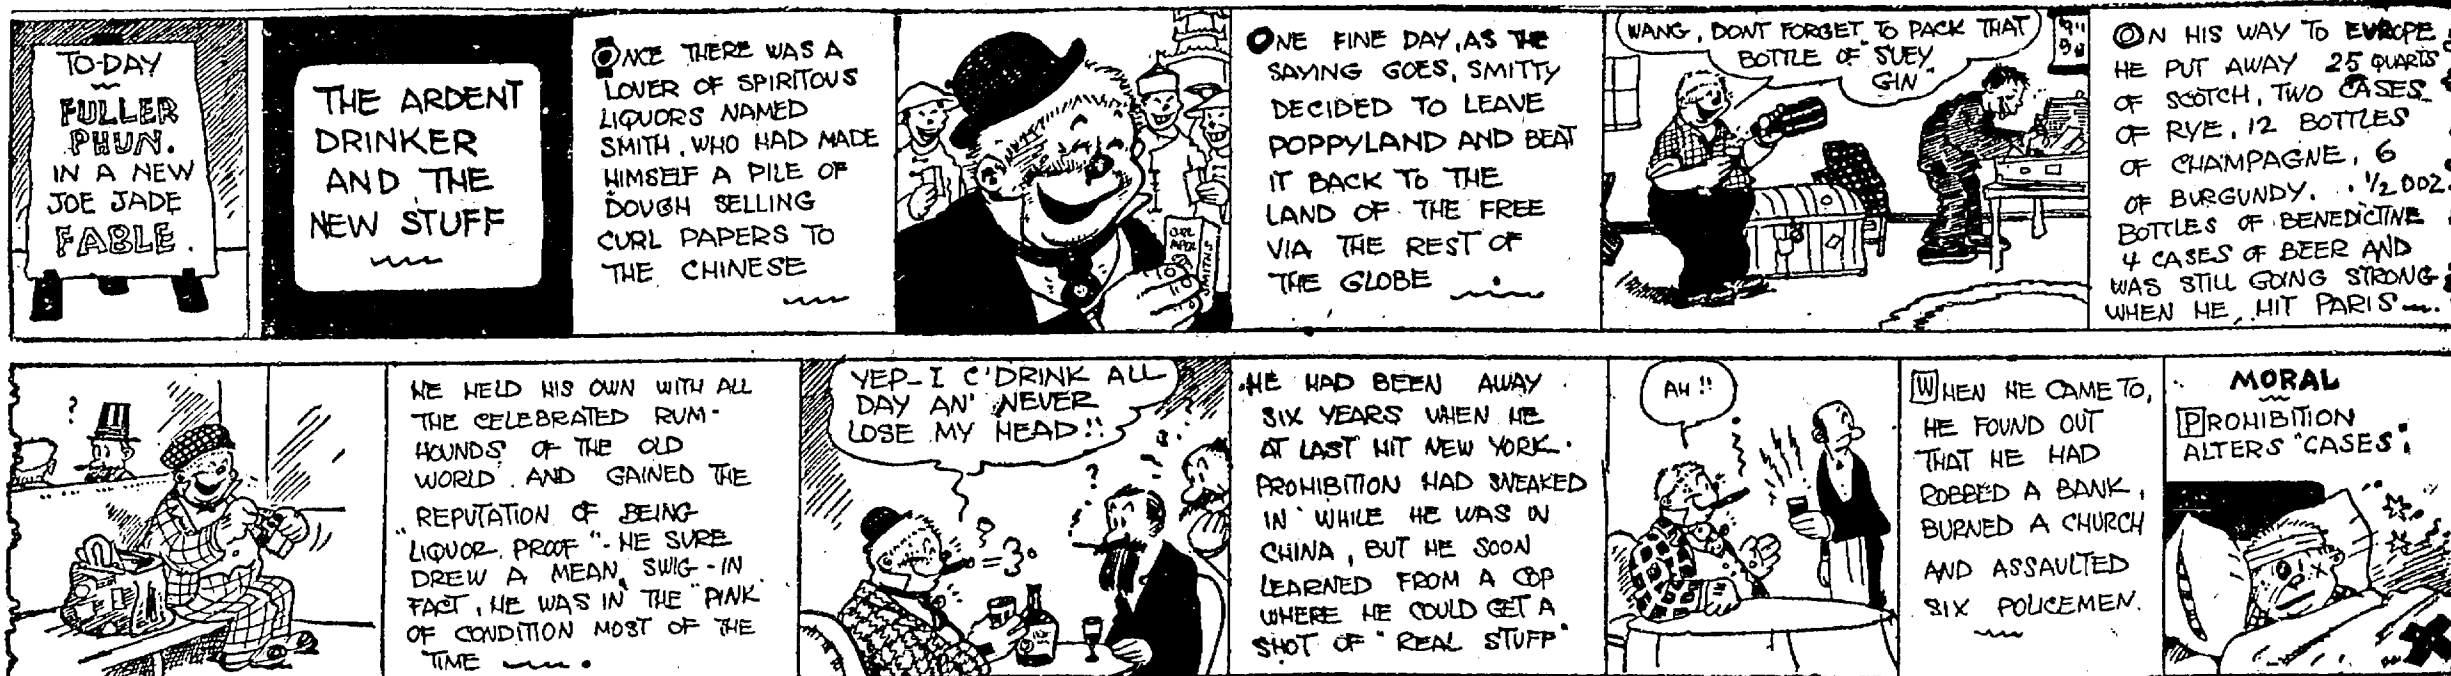

"Well, I'm glad of that," laughed the bunny. And before the Bob Cat could wipe the water out of his eyes, Uncle Wiggily hopped safely to his hollow stump burrow, after thanking the baby fish, of course.

"And I was of some use in this world, after all," said the baby fish as he swam around the watercress pool.

Woman's Car Stolen While She Swims

ALAMEDA, July 24.—Mrs. Mary Marymont, 1225 Eighty-first street, Oakland, parked her auto at Neptune Beach yesterday. While she was enjoying the swimming someone stole the car. It was later recovered by Police Sergeant and Boyen at the foot of St. Charles street.

Leo Nichols and Joseph Polach, two Alameda youths, will explain to Police Judge L. R. Veinmann tomorrow why they took a private auto without the owner's permission yesterday and ran it until the gasoline gave out.

BICYCLE TIED TO S. P. TRAIN IS BADLY BATTERED

ALAMEDA, July 24.—Someone tied a bicycle to the rear of the S. P. Horseshoe train while it was standing at Park street station yesterday afternoon. The bicycle, badly broken, was discovered upon arrival of the train at the Oakland mole. The incident was reported to the Alameda police, who are endeavoring to locate the owner of the wheel.

If you see it in THE TRIBUNE tell them so.

Many From Outside City At McPherson Revival

By Frank B. Schumann

Twenty thousand people thronged the tent tabernacle yesterday afternoon and evening at Twenty-sixth street, where the Alameda Semple McPherson revival meetings are being held. Fully half of those present indicated at both the afternoon and the evening meeting that they were from outside of the city.

FIRST CAMPAIGN CAMPFIRE HELD IN SEQUOIA DRIVE

Tribune Editorial Praised by Speakers at Meeting to Save Redwoods.

Lovers of the out-of-doors held their first campaign campfire Saturday night in the drive to "Save Oakland's Sequoias." The gathering was held under the auspices of the Mountain Park Campaign Committee. A feature of the campfire was the reading of a recent editorial in THE TRIBUNE on the subject of "Trees as Spokesmen."

After the reading of the editorial the following resolution of appreciation was drafted:

"Gathered about our first campaign campfire in the heart of Oakland's famous sequoia grove this evening, we have just listened with appreciative interest to a reading of THE TRIBUNE'S editorial, 'Trees as Spokesmen,' which appeared in today's issue."

"With unanimous approval of this gathering of citizens of Oakland, under the auspices of the Mountain Park Campaign Committee, we herewith express our sincere appreciation of the sentiment so appealingly set forth in this editorial, urging the people of Oakland to save this superb sequoia grove and its necessary approaches as a public recreation ground for all time."

Those who drafted the resolution spent the night in the woods and explored the park areas yesterday.

John Gelder, chairman of the speakers' bureau, addressed the members of the Chevre, Kadusha Society at its annual picnic at East Short park yesterday. He laid emphasis on the fact that citizens of Oakland in all walks of life were contributing $1 each as membership dues in "Save Oakland's Sequoias" committee which is turned into the campaign fund. The "S O S" button is the insignia of membership.

Harry L. Boyle, president of the board of education, is arranging to have the school children of the city enter a prize essay contest on the question, "Why Oakland Should Save the Redwood Memorial Park."

B. W. Hoover, chairman of the "S. O. S." button committee, reports a steady demand for buttons. However, he urges that all Oakland firms which have not already done so, send in requests for buttons to headquarters at 1451 Franklin street or ask for them by telephone.

A special service of praying for the sick was held at this afternoon's meeting and scores were at the altar asking for the healing of their ills by prayer. Tonight the last part of the sermon on "My Life" will be given by Mrs. McPherson.

Last night Mrs. McPherson gave the beginning of it, in which she told her story of the hardships she was forced to endure to carry on the work. A complete story of Mrs. McPherson's life appeared in yesterday's issue of THE TRIBUNE.

Dr. W. K. Townner, pastor of the First Baptist church of San Jose and formerly of Oakland, gave a short account of the McPherson revival at San Jose and stated that more than seven hundred persons had been baptized at the First Baptist church in San Jose.

Special musical numbers included a violin solo by Gilbert Mansfield of Oakland and vocal solo by Mrs. Frank B. Schumann, president of the First Baptist church of San Jose, at the afternoon meeting, and vocal solos by Miss Bessie Hammond and Mrs. Elsenberg, Jr. at the evening meeting.

At the afternoon meeting Mrs. McPherson spoke of the story of "Tehekan at the Well." In this story she compared Christianity to a novel, stating that in plot the two were very similar in that both had a heroine, a hero, a villain, and a happy ending.

"Jesus is the hero," she stated, "the church is the bride, the devil is the villain, and in the end of the book there is a wedding recorded where after overcoming the villain, the bridegroom, Jesus Christ is wedded to the church. 'They were married and lived happily ever after. This novel is very similar to our worldly novels, only much grander,' she said.

"Our own thoughts, our old theories, our own preconceived ideas must go if we intend to follow the gospel as it is written."

WITHOUT RESERVATION

"First we must come out, and we must come out without any strings on it; we must come out without any reservations. But it is not enough to come out, but we must come down unreservedly, and we will come back up with our pitcher full of the 'Holy Spirit.' If you are genuine you will have a real victory, and when you go down at the altar you will rebound like a rubber ball. If, however, you are not the real thing, you will land like a mud ball and the reaction will be like that of one."

"Too many people want the preacher to run after them with some worldly incentive to bring them to the church. The real Christian will find many bumps in his way, but he will also find the harder the bump the farther the step forward, and the harder the battle the bigger the victory."

"The church must not be composed of little house-plants who have to be protected from the sun and the rain, but it must be composed of sturdy plants that can weather the storms."

"There is a veil of separation that is slowly dropping between the church and the world. Worldliness cannot be associated with the church and have that church remain true."

Man Dies in $200,000
Fire in Marshfield

MARSHFIELD, Ore., July 24.—Fire which broke out here yesterday swept both sides of Front street for two blocks and destroyed property valued at $200,000, according to estimates of the fire department chief. Twenty-eight buildings were burned, most of them old wooden structures. A man known as Dutch Henry, aged 55, lost his life in a rooming house which was destroyed. The city hall, city jail and fire department headquarters were among the buildings burned. None of them were pretentious structures.

BERKELEY POLICE
ASKED TO MUFFLE
CROWING COCKSMove Started by College Girl
Gains Impetus Among Citizens.

BERKELEY, July 24.—Enter the police today in the war on the crowing rooster in Berkeley.

Mrs. E. Kaufman, 3021 Hills-gass avenue, in an exclusive district of Berkeley, brought the strong arm of the law into the controversy this morning after she declared she had spent a week of her life in her neighborhood's rooster.

She named W. C. Webb, 2017 Hills-gass avenue as owner of a particularly noisy rooster. Officer H. P. Lee was sent to investigate the complaint. Here is what he says about the matter:

"I called at Mrs. Webb's home and learned that she had a young one and has not yet secured the true chicken notes of a chicken. How long this state of affairs is going to last I cannot say. I suggested that the rooster be put to death but the young husband of Mrs. Webb objected. While I was at the house the rooster did not utter a sound and as we have no ordinance concerning the keeping of roosters I cannot proceed any further in this case."

9 Held in Shooting
Of L. A. Policeman

LOS ANGELES, July 24.—Three women and six men have been taken into custody as the result of the search for the assassin of Chester L. Bandle, motorcyclist, who was shot and seriously wounded Thursday night by a motorist he had halted for reckless driving. The police said they suspected Edward Burton, 27, one of the group arrested, of having shot Bandle. The other five men and two women were members of a band of professional criminals, who might have been responsible for many recent holdups here.

Two of the nine were found in a hotel and the remaining seven in a car. The police said they had a number of rifles, revolvers, a "saw" knife.

Seattle Power Line
In Forest Fire Path

SEATTLE, Wash., July 24.—Forest fires in the Maple Valley district, 15 miles southeast of Seattle, are endangering the city's electric light and power supply, according to reports from Deputy Fire Marshal J. Jones of Issaquah last night. Fire fighters are endeavoring to keep the blaze from the high tension line which brings power to the city from the Cedar Falls hydro-electric plant.

Reports reached here last night of the burning of a bridge of Nisqually Canyon in the Eatonville branch of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway. The bridge is 200 feet long. It is located four miles south of Eatonville.

Oregon Officials
Inspect State Roads

PORTLAND, Ore., July 24.—With the speedometer showing in excess of 2500 miles, R. A. Booth and John E. Yoon of the State Highway Commission and Governor Olcott arrived in Portland late yesterday after a seven-day tour of the state by automobile. Twenty-eight counties were visited during the fifteen-day trip and Chairman Booth says that every road section in controversy was personally inspected. W. L. Barrett, the eastern Oregon member of the commission, left the party at Heppner, where he lives.

The object of the tour was to take a first-hand survey of road conditions, examine the progress made and dispose of various matters of location of contemplated projects.

NOTED COLLECTOR DIES.

CHAPTER VI
THE "SOUR PAPER" DELUGE.

Sitting across the green baize table from the K. C. Kid and Buzzy the Burglar, was a millionaire meat packer and a wealthy physician.

The two crooks had undergone a radical transformation since they had been ditched off a train near Green River, Utah. Then they were a couple of hoboes. Now as they sat in a room in the fashionable Col-orado Springs Hotel, they appeared to be affluent gentlemen.

En route from California the pair had encountered some unusual experiences. In a section house near Utah, the K. C. Kid had broken open a loaf of bread and inside of it he had found a big roll of bills that represented the savings of the section hands for many days.

At Pacific they had realized on all their loot which they had accumulated from time to time and split $3500. Here they brought good clothes, had cards printed establishing their identity and became respectable. They visited a printer and asked to look over his sample letter heads. When his attention was attracted they stole several of these samples, pertaining to big Colorado firms, and wrote out typewritten letters of introduction for the K. C. Kid which Buzzy signed.

IN EASY POKER GAME.
And so there now found themselves sitting at an "easy" poker game with a couple of "live ones," thrilled by the prospect of making a killing and adding to their capital for the big "sour paper" game which they expected to participate upon the fashionable resort city.

For a time the Kid's luck had been good and he had no need to resort to tricks. Toward 2 o'clock in the morning when the millionaire and media were saying "this will be the last hand," he found it necessary to resort to the "spread." This is the oldest stall in the world and cannot be traced to a single source, but the average "sport" is easily flummoxed by it.

Four hundred and eighty dollars reposed in the pot. The K. C. Kid was drawing to a heart flush. He signalled Buzzy to help him out and when he drew one card, he bet high, just as if he had secured the flush. Instead of having five hearts in his hand, however, he possessed only four hearts and one spade. In a heated game his hand was worth nothing.

Skillfully he drew the easy marks into the betting, until $1000 lay on the table. The millionaire called him in. It was a showdown. If the Kid threw his hand on the table and exposed the fact that a spade spoiled his heart flush, he would lose all.

However, he did throw down his cards. Buzzy had been betting also. He had a right to "spread" the cards which were piled on top of each other. Before anyone else could touch them, Buzzy had snatched up the Kid's hand.

BUZZY SPREADS CARDS.
When Buzzy spread the cards, there were five hearts. The heart flush won the $1000 pot.

The Kid had worked it in this fashion. He had palmed the spade and had thrown down the four hearts only. Buzzy had picked up the hand so quickly that the other players could not see what had happened. Buzzy had palmed a heart and he picked up the Kid's four cards on top of the heart he held. Of course he then had five hearts, a flush.

The next day the crooks opened up a diamond broker's office. They rented a furnished office, had their names printed on the door, secured letter heads and other stationery, placed advertisements in the newspapers telling of their willingness to buy diamonds, and deposited $2000 in a local bank. The problem of getting a stenographer was a serious one. They hired an old fossil as bookkeeper but the stenographer had to be picked from more than a hundred applicants. They did not care about ability so they chose the prettiest girl in the lot and put her dress in the front window so that men would stare as they passed.

HONEST AT START.
For forty days the criminals conducted a legitimate business, buying some diamonds and paying for them with perfectly good and wonderfully lithographed and protected firm checks. The Consolidated Gum Company was so obviously responsible that its operators were invited to join the Chamber of Commerce.

In the scheme of things the K. C. Kid made small purchases from nearly every firm in Colorado Springs. The purchases were nearly always accompanied by correspondence on the expensive stationery of the company and payment was made by the well known and extremely good lithographed checks.

The $4000 in the bank dwindled rapidly. Expenses of the pair amounted to $500 a week.

One Saturday the pair started out to cash in. Bearing the firm check for $200, the K. C. Kid took Buzzy into a big wholesale grocery and asked to see the cashier. He then explained to the cashier that Buzzy had a very fine diamond to sell (showing a 3 carat stone), but that he insisted on getting cash for it. The grocer knew the Consolidated, and the cashier readily accepted the check. From 11 a. m. until 6 o'clock that night the K. C. Kid worked cashing checks as rapidly as he could walk from one store to another.

By evening they had cleaned up $10,000 on checks ranging from $50 to $500.

Hiring a fast automobile the crooks fled to Denver. Here the

RIPE OLIVES'LITTLE JIMMIE'
TO MAKE BOW IN RADIO TOMORROWForerunner of "Powerful Katrinka" to Initiate Service.

The TRIBUNE'S "Little Jimmie," forerunner of "powerful Katrinka," will go on the air tomorrow evening from KILX, which will broadcast for the first time. "Little Jimmie" is not quite sure of himself, although he appears to be quite strong, so in order to let him do his stuff, KILX will make its bow to the radio public by reproducing phonograph music. On Wednesday evening a high-class program will be broadcast from KILX, on the time of KZY, the Atlantic-Pacific company. The program tonight will be of selected music and appropriate for dancing.

"Little Jimmie" is in good shape for the initial broadcast from KILX. The TRIBUNE. He is to be the pinch-hitter for "Powerful Katrinka," who will make her bow to the radio audience on August 1. Her voice is to be so powerful that it is believed it will be an easy matter for her to make herself known across the United States and in Honolulu. "Powerful Katrinka" will do all the broadcasting, but if something should go wrong, as it sometimes does, "Little Jimmie" will reel off the entertainment until "Katrinka" is ready to go again.

Beginning on Wednesday evening THE TRIBUNE, KILX, will take over all the time of KZY, the Western Radio Institute, Hotel Oakland station, and the evening time of KZY, the Atlantic-Pacific company. KZY will continue to broadcast 15 minutes each evening, between 8:45 and 9 o'clock, on the time of KZY. KILX will be on the air each evening between 7:15 and 7:30 and on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings between 7:30 and 8:15, and on Friday and Saturday evenings between 8:15 and 9 o'clock.

FOUND DEAD.
PUERTO, Colo., July 24.—H. M. Murray of Chicago was found dead in a room of a local hotel late last night. Letters and papers found on his person showed that he was employed by the Smith and Trotman Company of Chicago, electric dealers. Death was believed to be due to natural causes. Murray's mother and sister reside in Chicago.STUDENTS DROWN.

SATURATION CURRENT

A limiting value of the plate current in a vacuum tube resulting from an increase in the plate voltage to such a value that all the electrons emitted by the filament are drawn to the plate and consequently no further increase in plate current will be obtained by a higher plate voltage.

MICROPHONE

A transmitter consisting principally of a diaphragm and a small amount of carbon in granular form connected between two carbon plates in a closed receptacle. The sound vibrations of the voice actuate the diaphragm which by regulating the pressure of the carbon grains controls their resistance and thus varies the current, through the transmitter, so that it conforms to the wave shape of the impressed sound.

RANGE (Transmission)

The distance over which a transmitting station is able to reliably transmit messages is known as its normal range as compared to its occasional range which is the distance transmitted, by the station, when conditions are exceptionally favorable.

RESONANCE

A condition existing in an alternating current circuit when the amount of inductance reactance and capacity reactance are so adjusted as to neutralize each other so that the only resistance offered to the flow of current is the ohmic resistance of the circuit.

DISTORTION

In transmission, a condition which exists when the modulation system of a transmitting station does not properly control the outgoing waves and therefore the wave form does not correspond to that of the speech or music. When distortion occurs, the high frequency oscillations are not correctly modulated and consequently the quality of the received sound varies considerably from the original sound.

REACTANCE REGULATOR

A form of "choke" coil of high self-inductance usually consisting of an iron core over which is wound a few turns of heavy insulated wire. The turns may be trapped and connected to a multipoint switch.

This form of coil is in general use for the purpose of regulating the amount of current flowing through a transformer in an alternating current circuit.

GRID BIASING BATTERY

A small battery commonly known as the "C" battery, usually of the flashlight type of dry cells, connected in the grid circuit for the purpose of maintaining the grid at a negative potential with respect to the filament.

PERMANENT MAGNET

A substance which having been magnetized, retains its magnetism permanently. Steel is commonly used for permanent magnets due to its power to resist demagnetization.

DIELECTRIC

An insulating medium which separates the plates of a condenser and has the ability to conduct electrostatic lines of force. Air, glass and mica are examples of a dielectric.

Pastor Is Entered
For Assembly Race

MERCED, July 24.—Fred W. Yokum is out of the assembly race from this county and Dr. D. C. Williams of Le Grand is in. At a conference of leading Republicans this was the announcement finally made, followed by the filing of Williams' petitions with the county clerk.

Yokum joined the conference, and after learning that Dr. Williams was willing to make the race, declared himself withdrawn. Yokum consented to run several weeks ago. In the conference he stated he did not care for the office and was glad to withdraw in favor of Dr. Williams.

Dr. Williams has been a resident of Le Grand for four years, where he is pastor of the Methodist church. During the World War he was chaplain of Camp Zachary Taylor in Kentucky. In politics he is a Republican.

Two Cyclists Are Killed in Collision

HILLSBORO, Ore., July 24.—Two men were killed last night when a motorcycle crashed head-on into a truck near here. Arthur H. Gitzmacher, 28, of Orencia, Ore., was killed instantly, and Fred Bishop, 40, also of Orencia, was so badly mangled that he died later.

SHIPPING BOARD LOSES.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Operation of Shipping Board vessels covering all trade routes during the month of June, cost $2,783,216 in excess of income, Chairman Lasker announced yesterday.

Sales
Reflect Public Opinion About Tires

June was the biggest month in all the twenty-two years of Firestone's history.

More than 700,000 tires—Cord, Fabric and Truck—were shipped from the factories at Akron to meet the tremendous demand for Firestone products.

This is convincing proof of the rapidly increasing public recognition of the high standard of quality, value and service established by Firestone. It reflects the car owner's eager acceptance of Firestone's pledge of Most Miles per Dollar.

Motorists are supported in their choice of Firestone equipment by America's greatest tire-buying experts, including taxicab operators and motor transport companies throughout the country. They have investigated the high quality materials, workmanship and special processes of double gum-dipping and air-bag cure that go into Firestone Tires, and have accurate records to prove the extraordinary mileage they give.

Share in the advantages Firestone offers you. Buy from the reliable dealer in your neighborhood who sells Firestone quality.
